YOU WILL FIND WHAT YOU ARE LOOKING FOR!

More Than 10,000 Retirement Opportunities Will Appear in the Big Sunday Post-Dispatch Tomorrow.

VOL. 77. NO. 258.

JUDGE
TAYLOR LOCKED UP
IN AUTO DISPUTERefuses to Give Bond and Is Held in Custody on Charge of Careless Driving.DENOUNCES POLICE ACTION AS OUTRAGEDeclares He Will Remain Under Arrest Until He Can Appear in Police Court Monday.

After refusing to sign his own bond, following his arrest at 6 a. m. today on a charge of careless driving, and announcing that he would remain in custody until he could appear in Police Court Monday morning, former Circuit Judge Daniel G. Taylor of 4907 Pershing avenue was locked in a cell at LaSalle Avenue Station.

Judge Taylor was arrested on complaint of Leo van Cleet, 3540 Lindell boulevard, who charged that Judge Taylor, driving west on Lindell, on the south side of the street, crashed into his parked Ford touring car in front of his home at 3 a. m., throwing the car against a lamp post and knocking it down.

Charges refusal to pay. Judge Taylor, when seen in his cell by a Post-Dispatch reporter, said: "My arrest and incarceration was based on the proposition that a man, not an officer of the state, might, by his mere word, bring about the arrest and incarceration of another man for refusing to accept civil liability."

Asked for damages. "When I was brought in here I was asked by the police if I would pay the damages done to Mr. Van Cleet's car, and I answered that I would have to consider a policeman turned to Mr. Van Cleet and asked him if he wanted me locked up."

"Mr. Van Cleet answered 'yes' and I was placed in this cell. "What is liberty, what is law, what are the rights of citizenship when such a situation can obtain?" "My family has lived in Missouri for generations and never did any one die. The police knew where I could be reached; that I was financially responsible, and yet they subjected me to the indignity of coming to my home at 6 o'clock in the morning, taking me out of bed and dragging me off to a police station. Later on I shall have more to say of this outrage."

At 6 o'clock, after Judge Taylor had been in the station two hours, Taylor went to the station and implored him to accept his release on his own bond. He refused. Then he signed a bond for him, but he declined to leave the cell.

Judge Taylor had been searched and all his property taken from him, as is the custom in locking up prisoners, and at 10 a. m. he was out for his glasses so that he could read a newspaper.

Law Partner Calls. At 11 o'clock Jacob Chasnoff, a law partner of Judge Taylor, went to the Police Station and made an unsuccessful attempt to persuade the judge to accept release on bond.

Judge Taylor told Chasnoff he addressed a public meeting last night and was on his way home when the accident occurred. He was taken to the station and was led to a police station to make a civil claim, and that he was not just in using the Police Station as a collection agency.

Henry was on duty at the station when Judge Taylor was taken there. Sgt. Luttrell made the arrest.

Reporters called at the station at 4 a. m. and for a time Capt. Chasnoff refused to permit them to see Judge Taylor, but later changed his attitude, so that the judge could give his version of the case.

Other Friends Call. In a cell on one side of that occupied by Judge Taylor were four members of the street who departed

Continued on Page 3, Column 2.

Won't Give Bond.

—STRAUS PHOTO.
DANIEL G. TAYLOR.KIDNAPED WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN MAINE COTTAGEMiss Aida Heyward Had Been Taken Away by Man Who Shot
Aunt and Fired Home.

WINTHROP, Me., May 23.—The body of Miss Aida Heyward, who was taken from her cottage at Lake Maranacook early Wednesday by a man who shot her aunt, Mrs. Emma L. Towne, and set fire to the cottage, was found today in a room on the second floor of a cottage owned by Jennie Gray at Pine Point.

The Gray cottage is about a mile and a half from the former home of Miss Heyward. The State authorities had the name of a man who they believed had abducted the woman. The body was found on a bed cot. It was believed that Miss Heyward had been choked to death.

The body was found by Charles S. Towle, former Deputy Sheriff; S. Lee Woodman and Dr. J. J. Bates, all of Winthrop, who were conducting a more detailed search of cottages about Lake Maranacook.

A general alarm had been sent out to capture Harry A. Kirby, of Watertown, Mass., who for two weeks has been occupying the cottage where the body was found and working in a local factory.

A postcard was received by Postmaster Earl B. Jones this morning from Kirby, directing that any mail for him be forwarded to Augusta. Mail came for Kirby today, but on the desire of the President, the decision today is wholly in the hands of the President.

Davis, who by all accounts, has pleased the President with his work as Assistant Secretary, is certain to be in the front line of those considered for the Secretaryship if Weeks resigns. It appears certain, however, especially in view of yesterday's White House statement, that the job has not been foreclosed in favor of anyone.

Hilles and Men Mentioned.

There has been a good deal of speculation around the name of Charles D. Hilles of New York, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, as a possible recipient of the war portfolio. Another version of the Hilles report is that he will be put at the head of the Postoffice Department—the place traditionally filled by a strictly political appointment—and that Postmaster-General Lewis will be shifted to the War Department.

Another, who has been mentioned for the War Secretaryship, is former Gov. Redfield Proctor of Vermont, whose father, of the same name, was Secretary of War under Harrison. There has been less talk of Proctor since another Vermont man, John G. Sargent, came into the Cabinet as Attorney-General.

Butler Figures in Speculation. Still another theory of the unofficial cabinet makers, is that the question of Weeks' successor is being left unsettled until the administration satisfies itself as to the chances of Senator William M. Butler of Massachusetts to succeed himself. Butler, who is now filling out the unexpired term of the late Senator Lodge, by appointment of the Governor, faces the prospect of a hard contest with former Sen. Charles I. Walsh, Democrat, at the 1926 election.

Responsibilities for Davis. Unlike most other assistant cabinet secretaries, that held by Davis is the only one in the department, and is vested, moreover, with certain direct responsibilities under statute law. One of the most in the making of plans for the mobilization of industry in wartime—a duty which has taken much of Davis' time since he entered the department. He will now have the full-sized job of carrying on his own work in addition to that normally performed by the head of the department.

Overcome by Heat While Working. Henry Stevens, 54 years old, fell unconscious while working in the workhouse quarry yesterday afternoon. He was taken to the city hospital, where the case was pronounced one of heat prostration. His condition is serious.

Order Your Copy Today

Order Your Copy Today

Order Your Copy Today

DWIGHT DAVIS
SITS IN CABINET
AS WAR CHIEFWeeks' Absence Owing to Health Gives St. Louisian
Full Duties and Title of Acting Secretary.SPECULATION AS TO CABINET CHANGEIn Addition to Davis, Hilles, Proctor and Butler Are Mentioned for the Portfolio.Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20-23 Wyatt Building.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The departure of Secretary of War Weeks for Boston last night, for a consultation with his physicians and an extended rest, has placed a St. Louisian, Dwight F. Davis, at the head of the military establishment for an indefinite period.

At the White House yesterday it was said for the President, that he expected Weeks to resume his duties here about the first of September. The state of the Secretary's health is such, however, that no one can say positively when he will be able to return to active work without danger to himself.

Meantime, Davis, the Assistant Secretary, will have the duties and title of Acting Secretary of War, and at the request of the President will sit with the Cabinet at its regular semi-weekly meetings. He attended his first Cabinet session as Acting Secretary yesterday.

Retirement Rumored for Months. The rumor has been constant in Washington for months that Secretary Weeks, for reasons of health, would take an early occasion to retire from the Cabinet. That he has remained a member is due to the disinclination of the President to make a change, in what he believes, has been an eminently successful and popular administration of the War Department. Whether Weeks will retire during the next three months depends not only on what his Boston physicians may tell him, but on the desire of the President.

The decision today is wholly in the hands of the President. Davis, who by all accounts, has pleased the President with his work as Assistant Secretary, is certain to be in the front line of those considered for the Secretaryship if Weeks resigns. It appears certain, however, especially in view of yesterday's White House statement, that the job has not been foreclosed in favor of anyone.

Hilles and Men Mentioned. There has been a good deal of speculation around the name of Charles D. Hilles of New York, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, as a possible recipient of the war portfolio. Another version of the Hilles report is that he will be put at the head of the Postoffice Department—the place traditionally filled by a strictly political appointment—and that Postmaster-General Lewis will be shifted to the War Department.

Another, who has been mentioned for the War Secretaryship, is former Gov. Redfield Proctor of Vermont, whose father, of the same name, was Secretary of War under Harrison. There has been less talk of Proctor since another Vermont man, John G. Sargent, came into the Cabinet as Attorney-General.

Butler Figures in Speculation. Still another theory of the unofficial cabinet makers, is that the question of Weeks' successor is being left unsettled until the administration satisfies itself as to the chances of Senator William M. Butler of Massachusetts to succeed himself. Butler, who is now filling out the unexpired term of the late Senator Lodge, by appointment of the Governor, faces the prospect of a hard contest with former Sen. Charles I. Walsh, Democrat, at the 1926 election.

Responsibilities for Davis. Unlike most other assistant cabinet secretaries, that held by Davis is the only one in the department, and is vested, moreover, with certain direct responsibilities under statute law. One of the most in the making of plans for the mobilization of industry in wartime—a duty which has taken much of Davis' time since he entered the department. He will now have the full-sized job of carrying on his own work in addition to that normally performed by the head of the department.

Overcome by Heat While Working. Henry Stevens, 54 years old, fell unconscious while working in the workhouse quarry yesterday afternoon. He was taken to the city hospital, where the case was pronounced one of heat prostration. His condition is serious.

Order Your Copy Today

Order Your Copy Today

Order Your Copy Today

Order Your Copy Today

Order Your Copy Today

Order Your Copy Today

Order Your Copy Today

Order Your Copy Today

TENTS TO HOUSE
CROWD AT TRIAL
OF EVOLUTIONRailroads Are Asked for Parking Space for Pullmans—Amplifiers at Courthouse.

By the Associated Press.
DAYTON, Tenn., May 23.—With legal technicalities cleared away for a speedy test of the Tennessee law prohibiting the teaching of evolution in public schools, Dayton today bustled herself with the purely physical side of the test.

Tents were being procured to augment hotel facilities, amplifiers were to be arranged on the courthouse grounds to assure the anticipated thousands that they might hear the arguments of well-known attorneys and anti-evolutionists as they give the case its final boost toward the Supreme Court.

As two committees busied themselves about these tasks, a third body, appointed yesterday by the Progressive Voters' Club, appealed to railroad officials to clear all rail sidings so as to allow parking space for Pullman cars expected with the influx of visitors and litigants.

Prof. J. T. Scopes, chosen as principal in the test case, returned to Dayton several days ago to remain here until the trial. Attorneys appearing in his defense will include Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer and Dudley Field Malone, while William Jennings Bryan will aid in the prosecution.

A special grand jury will be called Monday.

MRS. WOODROW WILSON
SAILS FOR VISIT TO FRANCERegistered Under Name of "Miss Eleanor Collins" on the Liner Majestic.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 23.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the war President, registered on the rolls of the liner Majestic, which sailed this morning for Cherbourg, whence she will go to Paris by motor.

Mrs. Wilson, accompanied by her companion Miss Belle Baruch, daughter of Bernard M. Baruch, who was chairman of the War Industries Board under President Wilson, will visit Belgium.

Wearing deep mourning and carrying a bouquet of white gardenias under her arm, Mrs. Wilson said it was her rule to "say nothing." This was her first trip abroad since the memorials to President Wilson, to negotiate the Treaty of Versailles after the World War. Baruch accompanied her and his daughter to the steamer.

After a few days in Paris, Mrs. Wilson plans to motor through France and possibly to visit Belgium.

3 CONDEMNED FOR MURDER OF DANCING GIRL'S PROTECTORFour Others Are Sentenced to Deportation for Life—Two Are Acquitted.

By the Associated Press.
BOMBAY, May 23.—Three of the nine men charged with the murder in January of Abdul Kadir Baula, rich Mohammedan merchant and protector of Mumtaz Begum, the dancing girl, were sentenced to death today.

The men sentenced to death were Shafi Ahmed, sergeant-major of the Indore Mounted Police, Sham Rao Dighe, captain of the Indore Air Force, and an officer of the Maharajah's household named Ponde.

Rao Phanse, adjutant general of the Indore State Forces and three other men were sentenced to deportation for life.

Syed Mahomed of the Indore Police, and Karamat Khan of the Indore Lancers, were acquitted.

WAVE DAMAGES COTTAGES.

Fifteen Feet of New Soil Added to Lake Ontario Shore.

By the Associated Press.
SODUS POINT, N. Y., May 23.—A great wave of unknown origin swept ashore from Lake Ontario here today, damaging several cottages and bathhouses near the beach, and adding between 15 and 20 feet of new soil to a sand bar at Crescent Beach. Simultaneous with the wave, residents here believed they felt a slight earth tremor.

By the Associated Press.
POULTNEYVILLE, N. Y., May 23.—Some damage was done to property along the Lake Ontario shore here early today by a wave which residents estimated to be five or six feet high. The wave dashed over the shore and then receded seemingly such the beach dry and drawing the water from Bear Creek near here. One of the longer piers alternately stood entirely out of water and then was submerged.

FORREST'S CAVALRY IN PARADE

DALLAS, Tex., May 23.—Soldiers of all wars of the old veterans walked on foot and a handful of Forrest's cavalry rode horseback. A few old slaves were with remnants of uniforms. The champion chicken thief of the South was one of them. He wore chicken feathers in his hat and carried a rooster under each arm.

NO REPORT FROM AMUNDSEN;
WEATHER CONDITIONS FINE
FOR DARING ADVENTUREROBBER KIDNAPS
PAYMASTER, GETS
$2000 AND AUTOEmployee of the Boaz-Kiel
Construction Co., Held Up as He Enters His Machine.

A highwayman stole the $2000 payroll of the Boaz-Kiel Construction Co., in which former Mayor Henry W. Kiel is a partner, after kidnapping the paymaster, John S. Babcock, 32, of 6812 Hancock avenue, at Chouteau and Vandeventer avenues at 11:30 a. m. today.

Babcock had just stepped from the Chouteau Avenue Trust Co. building in which the construction company has offices, after receiving the money for the payroll. He was entering his automobile, a Studebaker Special Six touring car, when the robber, a young man, slipped into the seat beside him.

The paymaster's car faced east and he was starting in that direction to disburse the money among the workers on several jobs.

The robber, Babcock said, thrust a .44-caliber revolver against his ribs.

"You turn here and drive west," he commanded.

Babcock turned, drove to Sarah street, then north to Dupan avenue and across to Boyle avenue. Here the kidnaper forced Babcock to turn south and drive him to a lonely region near the Wabash tracks.

The robber ordered Babcock out and drove west in the direction of Park and Oak.

Babcock went to the Newstead avenue police station, where he reported the robbery.

Payroll Robbers Get $710 in Plumbing Shop Holdup.

Two armed robbers, driving a Chevrolet automobile, held up William Hunt and his son, Robert, in their plumbing shop at 1127 South Grand boulevard at 9:30 a. m. today and escaped with $710 in payroll money, with which Robert Hunt was preparing to pay off his father's employees on various construction jobs throughout the city.

Hunt and his son had just completed counting the money, placing it in envelopes, when the robbers drove up and entered the shop with drawn revolvers.

Bar Owner Robbed of $150 As He Leaves Street Car.

Two robbers in an automobile followed Tony Nelson, proprietor of a soft drink bar at Third and Barry streets, as he left a Broadway car at Barry, at 12:30 p. m. today, halted him with a revolver and forced him to give up $150 he carried in his inside coat pocket. Nelson had just previously left the Lafayette South Side Bank with the money, which he had obtained for cashing checks. The robbers escaped.

PARTLY CLOUDY TONIGHT AND TOMORROW, PROBABLY RAIN

THE TEMPERATURES.

	5 a. m.	8 a. m.	11 a. m.	2 p. m.	5 p. m.	8 p. m.
May 22	64	72	80	84	88	84
May 23	64	72	80	84	88	84
May 24	64	72	80	84	88	84
May 25	64	72	80	84	88	84
May 26	64	72	80	84	88	84
May 27	64	72	80	84	88	84
May 28	64	72	80	84	88	84
May 29	64	72	80	84	88	84
May 30	64	72	80	84	88	84
May 31	64	72	80	84	88	84

Official forecast for St. Louis as a whole vicinity: Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday, probably with local thunderstorms; cooler tomorrow; possibly showers Sunday.

Missouri: Partly overcast tonight and Sunday; possibly showers Sunday.

Illinois: Unsettled tonight and Sunday, probably with local thunderstorms; cooler in north and central portions.

Sun rises at 4:41; sets at 7:13.

Shower's Next Week.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Weather outlook for the week beginning Monday: Upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys: Fair except for period of showers first half; cool first part followed by warmer middle and latter parts.

If Both Planes Crash

ACCORDING to his plan of a campaign made long in advance, Amundsen will start on foot for the northern tip of Greenland if both his planes should be wrecked. From there he would hope to reach Etah, the northernmost settlement in Greenland. The expedition is equipped for this journey with provisions, wind clothing and skis.

Should the members of the expedition be driven to this extreme

ity the outside world would not know of it until next year, as it would be impossible for Amundsen and his men to reach Etah before the last boat had sailed southward, and they would thus be compelled to spend the winter in the Eskimo settlement.

From the North Pole the tip of Greenland is 500 miles, over sea ice. From the tip to Etah, over land and ice, the distance is slightly more than 500 miles.

Should the members of the expedition be driven to this extreme

ity the outside world would not know of it until next year, as it would be impossible for Amundsen and his men to reach Etah before the last boat had sailed southward, and they would thus be compelled to spend the winter in the Eskimo settlement.

From the North Pole the tip of Greenland is 500 miles, over sea ice. From the tip to Etah, over land and ice, the distance is slightly more than 500 miles.

Should the members of the expedition be driven to this extreme

ity the outside world would not know of it until next year, as it would be impossible for Amundsen and his men to reach Etah before the last boat had sailed southward, and they would thus be compelled to spend the winter in the Eskimo settlement.

From the North Pole the tip of Greenland is 500 miles, over sea ice. From the tip to Etah, over land and ice, the distance is slightly more than 500 miles.

Should the members of the expedition be driven to this extreme

ity the outside world would not know of it until next year, as it would be impossible for Amundsen and his men to reach Etah before the last boat had sailed southward, and they would thus be compelled to spend the winter in the Eskimo settlement.

From the North Pole the tip of Greenland is 500 miles, over sea ice. From the tip to Etah, over land and ice, the distance is slightly more than 500 miles.

Should the members of the expedition be driven to this extreme

ity the outside world would not know of it until next year, as it would be impossible for Amundsen and his men to reach Etah before the last boat had sailed southward, and they would thus be compelled to spend the winter in the Eskimo settlement.

From the North Pole the tip of Greenland is 500 miles, over sea ice. From the tip to Etah, over land and ice, the distance is slightly more than 500 miles.

Should the members of the expedition be driven to this extreme

ity the outside world would not know of it until next year, as it would be impossible for Amundsen and his men to reach Etah before the last boat had sailed southward, and they would thus be compelled to spend the winter in the Eskimo settlement.

From the North Pole the tip of Greenland is 500 miles, over sea ice. From the tip to Etah, over land and ice, the distance is slightly more than 500 miles.

Should the members of the expedition be driven to this extreme

ity the outside world would not know of it until next year, as it would be impossible for Amundsen and his men to reach Etah before the last boat had sailed southward, and they would thus be compelled to spend the winter in the Eskimo settlement.

From the North Pole the tip of Greenland is 500 miles, over sea ice. From the tip to Etah, over land and ice, the distance is slightly more than 500 miles.

Should the members of the expedition be driven to this extreme

ity the outside world would not know of it until next year, as it would be impossible for Amundsen and his men to reach Etah before the last boat had sailed southward, and they would thus be compelled to spend the winter in the Eskimo settlement.

From the North Pole the tip of Greenland is 500 miles, over sea ice. From the tip to Etah, over land and ice, the distance is slightly more than 500 miles.

Should the members of the expedition be driven to this extreme

ity the outside world would not know of it until next year, as it would be impossible for Amundsen and his men to reach Etah before the last boat had sailed southward, and they would thus be compelled to spend the winter in the Eskimo settlement.

From the North Pole the tip of Greenland is 500 miles, over sea ice. From the tip to Etah, over land and ice, the distance is slightly more than 500 miles.

EVERY HOPE FOR SAFETY OF FLYERS AND SUCCESS OF POLAR EXPEDITIONWeather Continues Mild and No Sign of Anxiety for Explorers Is Manifest in Copenhagen.MUCH SPECULATION
BY ARCTIC EXPERTSLack of News Attributed to Fact That Planes Abandoned Wireless to Carry
More Fuel.By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 23.—Captain Amundsen had no intention of returning from his North Pole expedition via Alaska. This statement was made today by Loring Pickering, general manager of the North American Newspaper Alliance, who gave out a cablegram he received on May 4 from the Captain bearing on this point.

Pickering issued the statement because it had been published that the delay in hearing from the progress of the flight may be due to a continuation of the party across the Arctic region in an effort to reach Point Barrow. The cablegram read as follows:

"Despite rumors, under no circumstances do we contemplate continuing our flight to Alaska."

At 11:30 a. m. today no message had been received by the Alliance as to the progress of the flight since the announcement of the departure on Thursday afternoon.

By the Associated Press.
COPENHAGEN, May 23.—Copenhagen was still without news of Amundsen at 5 o'clock this morning but there were no signs of anxiety here over the safety of the intrepid explorer and his companions. It is realized that the final decision to carry an increased fuel supply instead of wireless apparatus makes any news impossible until his return to Spitzbergen.

The time mentioned in the foregoing dispatch, 5 o'clock this morning, was 10 o'clock last night, St. Louis time.

Weather Conditions for Flight Continue Very Favorable.

By the Associated Press.
OSLO, Norway, May 23.—The Shire's Gazette reports that the weather conditions for Capt. Amundsen's polar flight continue very favorable and that there is every hope of the expedition returning safely. A dispatch says the temperature now 1 mile.

Those with Arctic experience or other expert knowledge believed that Amundsen's crew used abundance indicated that he had landed at the Pole or had discovered an intermediate body of land on which he had descended for closer investigation and more accurate location.

In either case, it was pointed out, he might have encountered difficulties in attempting, again to take to the air.

Believe to Have Reached Pole. Norwegian press comments agree in the view that Amundsen must have landed at the pole. The newspapers argue that otherwise by now he would have returned to Spitzbergen.

Captain Otto Sverdrup, Norwegian Arctic explorer, said he did not think the discovery of new land by Amundsen was probable. He expressed the opinion that there is no land around the North Pole or in the unknown polar basin, re-

Continued on Page 2, Column 7.

Continued on Page 2, Column 7.

Continued on Page 2, Column 7.

Continued on Page 2, Column 7.

Italian Flyer at Penang.
By the Associated Press.
PENANG, Straits Settlements,
May 23.—Commander De Pinedo, the Italian airman who is flying from Rome to Japan and Australia, arrived here today.

The fleas entered the country in package of clothing from Cuba and the owner has not been found.

"Cities keep right on growing and yet each decade I think that decade will be the last one of growth. The surest thing that Manager Hopkins has had experience as a lawyer and railroad official in the real estate business, the fuel industry and manufacturing.

The Western and Southern Life Insurance Company
CINCINNATI, OHIO

THE BIG SUNDAY
POST-DISPATCH
It Sets the Pace!

Freeman of the Deer Street District, who explained he had left his beat a half hour before he should because he was ill, and 20 hours against Motorcycle Patrolman Earl F. Hammett, who explained that a friend had been told to notify Headquarters when his automobile broke down near the ber of first the came in heard and the Commis attorney

he was

From Polar ion; Weather Fine

party should have arrived at the base yesterday afternoon.

Capt. Amundsen's greatest danger and fear was that great chunks of ice half buried in the snow, invisible from the air, would tear the planes to pieces when they landed. There was also the danger of predicted storms and the possibility that head winds would slow down the flight until the two-hour margin in his gasoline supply would be consumed. The gasoline cargo would supply the engines for about 1600 miles normally.

The explorer announced he would not attempt a landing if ice conditions were found, but would wheel about and return to Spitzbergen.

Lincoln Ellsworth of New York, leader of the second plane, and his pilot had orders to proceed to the Pole if Amundsen's plane was damaged. Ellsworth is the financial backer of the expedition.

The planes have bodies of duralumin, which was considered the safest from all points of view. They also carry rifles, shotguns, food, sleeping bags and other equipment needed in case of accident to the planes.

The American Government, through Secretary of War D. Davis and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Robinson, has expressed the heartiest wishes for the expedition.

Secretary Wilbur pointed out that the expedition in no way conflicts with the MacMillan expedition, which sailed from New York for Boston Wednesday on the first leg of its trip to the Arctic. The MacMillan expedition, sponsored by the National Geographic Society, will leave Boston June 17. The purpose of this expedition is purely scientific, while Capt. Amundsen's is to reach the Pole.

Amundsen has accomplished three of the four great feats of Polar expeditions—discovering the South Pole, re-locating the Magnetic North Pole and discovering the long-sought northwest passage.

Planes Were Specially Built to Withstand Rough Usage.

Sturdier airplanes probably never were built and flown than the two of the Wals—whales—are monoplanes, although there is a fuselage extending on either side of the body which is a brace for the upper wing, a pontoon that prevents the plane rolling over on either wing and a serviceable fender against floating ice.

Amundsen's plane is practically identical with that in which Lieut. Anthony Locatelli attempted a North Atlantic flight last summer. Each is driven by two 240-horsepower Rolls Royce motors mounted above the wings. They have two four-bladed propellers, tractor and a pusher. With a normal load either motor can keep the plane up while mechanics fix the other. The two planes kept close together, so either could fly back to Spitzbergen with the crews of both, in case of disaster.

Locatelli, after his rescue by the Richmond, averred that his giant seaplane was undamaged until she was dashed against the cruiser's side in the dark. She had spent six hours in battering seas that refused to let her rise, yet could not cripple her.

Three policemen who had to "explain to the board" in a five-hour session yesterday were out of a job when the session ended and two others were booked for extradition.

Patrolmen George A. Seibert and Edward S. Enders of the Mounted District tried to explain how they happened to be together May 8 at Chain of Rocks, four miles from Seibert's beat. Miss Ruth Greenway, 16, of 9112 Riverview drive, testified she was sitting in the municipal prolestation there when the two policemen came up, just as a negro waterworks employee between them. Enders was trying to make him dance. She said that Seibert came over and sat beside her, placing his arm on the back of the seat and patting her shoulder.

Girl's Account.

"What's your opinion—do you think he can jig?" he asked as he related it. She did not answer. She testified she caught an odor of liquor. "Can you jig?" he inquired. When she failed to respond he asked: "What're you reading?" and she got up and left the room.

Miss Greenway said that "Enders walked pretty straight, but if Seibert hadn't sat down when he did he'd have fallen." She said Enders helped Seibert on the street car and later helped him off after Seibert became dizzy.

She related that the next morning a saloonkeeper called her up and told her the policemen "were good fellows and didn't mean any harm," and informed her that, contrary to her impression, Enders had not drawn his revolver to make the negro dance. He had just touched it in a joking way. She said the saloonkeeper told her he would call up and find out if she had to go to the police station that afternoon, as the Lieutenant had plane up while mechanics fix the other. The two planes kept close together, so either could fly back to Spitzbergen with the crews of both, in case of disaster.

Locatelli, after his rescue by the Richmond, averred that his giant seaplane was undamaged until she was dashed against the cruiser's side in the dark. She had spent six hours in battering seas that refused to let her rise, yet could not cripple her.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

THREE POLICEMEN, ON CARPET BEFORE BOARD, DISMISSED

Two Fail to Explain Satisfactorily Their Capers at Chain of Rocks Trolley Station.

ANOTHER ACCUSED OF BEATING MOTORIST

Witnesses Support Complainant's Story That Patrolman Struck and Cursed Him After Collision.

Three policemen who had to "explain to the board" in a five-hour session yesterday were out of a job when the session ended and two others were booked for extradition.

Patrolmen George A. Seibert and Edward S. Enders of the Mounted District tried to explain how they happened to be together May 8 at Chain of Rocks, four miles from Seibert's beat. Miss Ruth Greenway, 16, of 9112 Riverview drive, testified she was sitting in the municipal prolestation there when the two policemen came up, just as a negro waterworks employee between them. Enders was trying to make him dance. She said that Seibert came over and sat beside her, placing his arm on the back of the seat and patting her shoulder.

Girl's Account.

"What's your opinion—do you think he can jig?" he asked as he related it. She did not answer. She testified she caught an odor of liquor. "Can you jig?" he inquired. When she failed to respond he asked: "What're you reading?" and she got up and left the room.

Miss Greenway said that "Enders walked pretty straight, but if Seibert hadn't sat down when he did he'd have fallen." She said Enders helped Seibert on the street car and later helped him off after Seibert became dizzy.

She related that the next morning a saloonkeeper called her up and told her the policemen "were good fellows and didn't mean any harm," and informed her that, contrary to her impression, Enders had not drawn his revolver to make the negro dance. He had just touched it in a joking way. She said the saloonkeeper told her he would call up and find out if she had to go to the police station that afternoon, as the Lieutenant had plane up while mechanics fix the other. The two planes kept close together, so either could fly back to Spitzbergen with the crews of both, in case of disaster.

Locatelli, after his rescue by the Richmond, averred that his giant seaplane was undamaged until she was dashed against the cruiser's side in the dark. She had spent six hours in battering seas that refused to let her rise, yet could not cripple her.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

Bride-to-Be of Herman Oelrichs

Miss Dorothy Haydel, who is to become the bride of Herman Oelrichs in Paris in June, is a niece of J. Vion Papin and Mrs. Winfield Scott Lloyd of St. Louis. She left this city for California several years ago.

Miss Dorothy Haydel, who is to become the bride of Herman Oelrichs in Paris in June, is a niece of J. Vion Papin and Mrs. Winfield Scott Lloyd of St. Louis. She left this city for California several years ago.

NIGHT TENNIS MAY CONTINUE ON FEES

Aldermen Eiler's Ordinance Provides $10 Charge for Golf and $1 for Tennis.

Night tennis, on the illuminated courts of Forest Park, may be continued, if an ordinance introduced by Aldermen Eiler is passed before the board's vacation.

The bill provides for small charges for use of the municipal golf links and tennis courts, and for devoting this revenue to the upkeep of the links and courts. It has been announced that stringency of city finances would make it necessary to reduce the number of Park Department laborers, thereby making it impossible to keep the tennis courts open at night or to devote as much care as heretofore to the golf course.

The bill would create a charge of $10 a year for a municipal golf permit and $1 a year for a tennis permit, and a flat charge of 20 cents a round for the 18-hole golf course for those with a permit, and 15 cents for the nine-hole course.

A bill, which failed of passage in the Board of Aldermen last year, fixed the same rate for an annual golf permit and fixed same fees at 25 and 50 cents for the two courses.

Aldermen Eiler declared that passage of his bill before the summer adjournment would provide sufficient revenue to re-establish night tennis and to continue keeping up the golf links as in the past.

MRS. WEBB, WIFE OF EAST
ST. LOUIS ATTORNEY, DIES

Husband Had Returned Few Hours Before From Funeral of Son by Former Marriage.

Mrs. Beattie Kelly Webb, 40 years old, wife of Thomas M. Webb, East St. Louis attorney, died last night at her home, 3265A State street, following a lingering illness from tuberculosis. Webb and other members of the family only a few hours before had returned from the funeral of Cantrell Webb, 29, son of Webb by a former marriage, who died Thursday from the same disease.

The body of Mrs. Webb was sent to Winchester, Ill., for burial by her mother, Mrs. James Collins, for her mother. The funeral will be held Thursday at 9 a. m. Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb were married in 1910. They have one son, Kelly Webb, 14 years old.

Change of Venue for Stephenson.

By the Associated Press.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 23.—A motion for a change of venue in the case of D. C. Stephenson, former Ku Klux Klan dragon, Earl Klink and Earl Gentry, all charged with the murder of Miss Madge Oberholzer, was granted today by Judge A. Collins in Criminal Court.

At 5:30 a. m., some hours after he was to report at midday, J. C. Gentry, a Cronin of the Angelica Street District, was dismissed without prejudice when he explained that a "jumper," which prevented the electric meter at his home from registering all the electricity used, might have been put there by someone else.

Mayor Miller, an ex-officio member of the board, attended the first time since he took office. He came in while testimony was being heard against Patrolman Hammett and took the vacant seat beside Commissioner Kortjeh, who is his attorney. When the board retired he went out with them, leaving as they returned.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

WEDDING IN PARIS FOR ST. LOUIS GIRL AND MILLIONAIRE

Miss Dorothy Haydel, Daughter of Late Real Estate Dealer, to Be Oelrichs' Bride.

ROMANCE BEGAN IN CALIFORNIA

Young Bachelor Is Heir to Fortune of Senator Fair; Fiancee Tried Work in Movies.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Herman Oelrichs, one of America's wealthiest bachelors, is engaged to be married to Miss Dorothy Haydel, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis Haydel of St. Louis.

Mrs. Gordon B. Tevis of Santa Barbara, made the announcement. The bride-to-be is the sister of Mrs. Tevis' sister, and her marriage will be in Paris on June 29.

Oelrichs' marriage will mark the end of one of the most spectacular young bachelor careers, that of the male heir to the famous '49 fortune of the California Fairs. He is a grandson of the late Senator Fair of California.

Fair, captured Newport society and Herman Oelrichs Sr. in the late eighties. Her sister married William K. Vanderbilt II. Herman Oelrichs Jr. was born in 1891. He grew up with Vincent Astor. In early youth he was young Astor's constant rival in speed contests, both ashore and afloat. Both served during the war in submarine chasers.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

SINCLAIR LOSES OIL GRANT FIGHT IN SOVIET COURT

Supreme Tribunal at Moscow Upholds Decree of the Lower Court Annuling Sakhalin Concessions

RETURN OF SECURITY MONEY ORDERED

Counsel for American Magnate Cited Decree Written by Lenin Granting Privileges to Foreigners.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

MOSCOW, May 23.—The Soviet supreme court has denied the appeal of the Sinclair Oil Co. from the decision of the lower court, which annulled its oil concessions in Sakhalin some time ago.

Three judges, qualified lawyers, heard the appeal, which was argued by Prof. Voron, chief attorney for the Sinclair interests. After four hours of deliberation, the court yesterday sustained all the findings of Justice Wolfson of the Moscow district court, March 24, annulling the oil concessions granted the American company on the island Sakhalin in 1923 and ordering the government to return to the company 200,000 rubles deposited as security for the carrying out of the terms of the concession. Today's decision overruled the Sinclair company's contention that the annulment suit had not been brought by the proper department of the Soviet government.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

GARNARD PAINTINGS AND ART WORKS BRING $444,000

Gainsborough Portrait of Countess Chesterfield Is Sold for $89,000 at the final sale at Christie's yesterday of paintings and art works belonging to Almina Countess Carnarvon and the present Earl of Carnarvon. The total of yesterday's sales reached about $444,000.

The sale was broadcast and, as "alien bidding" is customary at such sales, the auctioneer repeated each bid aloud. A small canvas, "View on Bank of Mass" sold for approximately $19,000. Boucher's "Love Messenger" brought $4800. Other sales were:

"Portrait of a gentleman," Belini, $17,000; "A small canvas," Gabriel Metau, "Lady Drawing a Bust," $10,000, a rate of more than $45 a square inch; two portraits by Sir Joshua Reynolds brought $500 together; the "Portrait of a Nobleman," long considered a Holbein, but now credited to Mabuse, $22,000.

$20,000 BOND ARRANGED BY 'JELLY ROLL' HOGAN REFUSED

John Volman, Charged With Death of Patrolman, Goes Back to Jail When Source Is Learned.

After he had ordered the release of John Volman, charged with murder in the first degree, Circuit Judge Wurdemann at Clayton today rescinded the order when he learned that "Jelly Roll" Hogan, reputed leader of the House gang, had arranged for the bond.

Volman is charged with killing Rudolph Hartung, a plain clothes patrolman, in a pistol fight at 9201 South Broadway, in March. Volman was wounded, but has recovered, and came into court today with Gus E. Koenig, 6217 Robber place, and "Cap" Troll, professional bondsman. After Koenig and Troll had qualified for $114,000 Judge Wurdemann fixed Volman's bond at $20,000 and ordered him released.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express money order or St. Louis check.
Delivered by city carrier or out-of-town by express, prepaid.

Entered as second-class matter July 11, 1878, at the Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., under act of March 3, 1879.
Postoffice at St. Louis, Mo., May 23, 1925.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER.
Dec. 15, 1878.

Published Daily by The Pulitzer Publishing Co., Twelfth and Olive Streets.
(Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.)

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches received by this office. It is understood that no other newspaper or publication shall be entitled to the use of special dispatches received by this office.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES BY MAIL IN ADVANCE.
Daily and Sunday one year, $10.00.
Daily without Sunday, one year, $8.00.
Sundays only, one year, $3.00.
Remit either by postal order, express

DR. JOHN R. CAULK TO HEAD UROLOGISTS

Closer Relationship Between Medical Specialists Is Urged at Meeting.

Dr. John R. Caulk of 50 Vandeventer place was chosen president-elect of the American Urological Association, a leading organization of specialists, at a session at Hotel Chase yesterday of the twenty-second annual meeting of the association.

Dr. Clarence R. O'Conor of Newark, N. J., who was chosen president-elect at last year's meeting, now assumes office. Dr. Homer G. Hamer of Indianapolis, Ind., was re-elected secretary, and Dr. James B. Cross of Buffalo, N. Y., was re-elected treasurer.

Closer relationship between the urologists and other specialized branches of the medical profession was urged by Dr. Herman L. Kretschmer, retiring president of the association, in an address yesterday. Urologists treat genito-urinary ailments. Kretschmer said, might be advisable, particularly with those groups having "border-line" problems.

"In the practice of your specialty," Dr. Kretschmer told his associates, "you have contacts with gynecologists, pediatricians, neurologists, internists and general surgeons."

Many Mutual Subjects. There would be no lack of subjects for mutual discussion, the president declared. He expressed his firm belief that as industry grows, more and more genito-urinary problems will be brought from industrial medical cases.

"It seems to me," he said, "that it might be well to have a joint meeting from time to time with the Society of Industrial Physicians and Surgeons, and to have a program upon the relationship of venereal disease to industry, in which many of these problems might be considered."

Two suggestions made by Dr. Kretschmer were for the compilation of a history of urology in America and for the allowance of more time on the programs of the association's annual meetings, so that more of the technical papers which make up the programs could be heard. He remarked that the association has grown tremendously during its 26 or 25 years of life, having 663 members now, and said, "It is the largest and undoubtedly the most powerful influence in urological spheres of any society in the world."

Progress in Cancer Treatment. It was brought out during the technical program at the first session Thursday that progress is being made in the treatment of cancer.

About 300 physicians from all parts of the United States and Canada are attending the gathering, which ends today. Each morning there have been clinics for their benefit, conducted by local members at various hospitals. There was a smoker Thursday night at Bellevue Country Club and last night the annual dinner was held at Hotel Chase.

VACATION

Don't buy new suits for your vacation. If your pants are worn out, match your coat and vest with new ones at The Post Store Co., 113 Pine St., Largest Retailers of Pants in America.

ADVERTISEMENT

Do you know what portion of the Bond Issue is being spent on Watson Boulevard?

ST. LOUIS UNIVERSITY Dental Clinic

2500 Caroline St. (Near Grand)
Hours: 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. Daily

St. Louis Youth With Habit of Winning Big Prizes

Schoolmates say that prize-winning is a habit with this St. Louis youth. Older heads have a different comment. The story in the Post-Dispatch Sunday Magazine is an inspiration well worth reading.

GET
THE BIG SUNDAY
POST-DISPATCH
It Sets the Pace!

The "Red Plot" to Communize the World

Propaganda Sent to Barcelona to Foment
Strikes in 1922 — Union of "Poorest Elements" Urged.

(This is the fifteenth in a series of articles dealing with the plans by which the communist dictators in Moscow hope to overthrow existing governments.)

By PAUL SCOTT MOWBRAY,
Special Correspondent to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News.
(Copyright, 1925.)

PARIS, May 5.—By way of supplementing remarks in a previous article on the subject of communist propaganda, it may be of interest to present a few specimens. The occasions are many, but the lurid style is the same in all cases. In 1922 there were strikes and terrorism in Barcelona, Spain, where communist agitators had succeeded in gaining control of the labor unions. Moscow at the time had great hopes of the Barcelona gunmen as well as of the Catalan separatist movement. Funds and encouragement were sent to the revolutionary strikers, and Tomsy, president—among other officers of the All Russian central soviet of trade unions—signed and issued this proclamation:

"The Russian proletariat follows with interest the heroic struggle of the Barcelona proletariat which is continuing in spite of terror and repression.

"The all-Russian central soviet of trade unions encourages and stimulates you to continue the struggle and sends you $50,000 pesetas (about $10,000) as a token of solidarity.

"Long live the international solidarity of workers."

Recent Events in Bulgaria. Events in Bulgaria came to nothing, after all. But the third internationale is never discouraged. It interprets its failures as experiments, lessons, preparations and rehearsal. When it finds there is nothing revolutionary to be accomplished openly in one place it shifts its interest to another. The entire plan, be it remembered, is to take the power away from the bourgeoisie and to establish a dictatorship of the proletariat. It can act in dozens of places at once, either separately or in co-ordination.

In the spring of 1923 conservative elements in Bulgaria succeeded in taking the power away from the radicals who had been in control. The Moscow dictators were much chagrined. The third internationale dispatched the following power:

"To Bulgarian workers and peasants: "Rise up against the Government which has perpetrated the white guard revolution in Bulgaria. Strike for a workman-peasant government."

"Peasants of Macedonia! You must unite in your own interests with the Bulgarian proletariat. "Workers of Czechoslovakia! Workers of Austria and Germany! The success of the Bulgarian fascist will encourage the same elements in your country.

"Attention! Concentrate all your forces to create a union of the poorest elements of the peasant and workmen proletarian classes and resist in every way the venal creatures of capitalism.

"Proletariat of all countries! Follow attentively events in Bulgaria. Mobilize the masses against the new government of murderers and criminals.

"Long live the solidarity of the international proletariat in the struggle against the menace of fascism."

Notice that the new government is described not as "your" but as "our" deadly foe. Moscow assumes complete solidarity with the communists of Bulgaria. Any effort to fight against the red revolutionary menace is immediately labeled as "fascism," and whereas red revolutionaries who kill and bomb and burn are "comrades," citizens who seek to preserve their country from communism are "murderers and criminals."

Call to Revolution. About the same time Finland decided to curb the suspicious activities of its labor radicals and took legal measures against them. The Executive Committee of the Third Internationale—that is, Stalin, Kamenev and Zinoviev—and all the rest of the principal Moscow conspirators replied with the following:

"Down with the white guard regime in Finland! The serious onslaughts of the Finnish Government upon the legal mass party of the labor classes deserves the serious attention of the international proletariat.

"In point of organization the Finnish labor party is never a part of the communist internationale, and much less, of course, a part of the Russian communist party. . . . Of course, it was a party that sincerely sympathized with us, and that is why our underground (illegal) Finnish section had no reason to take up a hostile attitude toward the labor party. The suppression of that legal party of the Finnish labor classes will not be a matter of necessity, compel the illegal Finnish communist party to take into its hands the entire political management of the proletarian class war. The Communist Internationale is going to do what it never did in Finland before—it enjoins the struggling Finnish proletariat to sever its ranks and to rally solely and only around the revolutionary banner of the communist party. Asks Help for Finnish "Comrades."

"At the same time the Communist Internationale calls upon the proletariat of all countries to condemn the white guard regime in Finland. Extend your hand of friendship to the brave Finnish comrades. Let the laborers of Finland know that they are not carrying on the right alone, but are supported by millions of brothers-in-arms until the hour of the final victory over capitalist oppression.

"Down with the rulers of Finland, the murderers of the labor classes! Long live the proletarian revolution!"

In other words, so long as the Finnish Government tolerated the communist activities of the "labor party" Moscow was satisfied. The Finnish Government was going on in taking the power away from the secret organizations of the conspirative brotherhood. But the moment the Government dared to react, however modestly, Moscow threatened, calls names and makes the usual appeal to foreign communists for international propaganda against the Finnish Government.

Japan Bars Soviet Relief. A little later came the Japanese earthquake. This seemed to the Moscow conspirators a splendid opportunity to make propaganda in Japan. All was in confusion, suffering and misery were rife, thousands were hungry. Perhaps even a little uprising could be fomented against the Japanese Government! Accordingly, the red dictators hurriedly loaded a ship with agitators and with propaganda printed in the Japanese language, and rushed it over to Tokyo. But the Japanese Government had the wisdom to refuse a landing to this "soviet relief ship." The Executive Committee of the Third Internationale—men who have caused untold human suffering in capitalist countries and who looked on practically unmoved during the Russian famine while millions agonized—gave expression thus to their shocked humanitarian sentiments:

"The terrible calamity which has visited Japan has shaken the hearts of all who are able to single the grief of others. The victims of the catastrophe are not yet buried, but already the Imperialistic Government of Japan has decided to show to the world that the class war never stops in capitalist society, be the circumstances what they may. The Imperialistic Government refuses steamer loads of food supplies sent to the Japanese laborers. And all this with the cynical alignment that with the food supplies there is communist literature on board the vessels!

"The communist Internationale invites the Japanese laborers, whatever their political creed may be, to create a united committee of action, to line up in a united front against the Imperial Government. Do not let the Imperial Government of Japan enjoy a single hour of quiet. Let the just wrath of the masses of toilers of Japan find its expression in organized struggle against the gang which rules the country."

"The Japanese laborers, must form a powerful communist party and trade unions that will be able to lead the toilers in serious ranks to the battle for the overthrow of the bourgeois Government and the establishment of workman-peasant Government."

"The death of Lenin was the occasion for what amounted practically to a world propaganda festival. Proclamations of grief and of revolutionary incitation were issued in sheaves and the various national sections of the brotherhood responded in kind.

American Communists "Marching." Here is what Isaac Amerer, representative of the "Workers Party of America"—the American communist organization—wrote for publication to the executive committee of the third internationale.

"The workers' party and the revolutionary workmen of America share the grief of soviet Russia. Being part of the communist internationale, American revolutionaries profoundly feel the grievous loss wrought to the world-communist movement by the end of our leader. We shall not let grief bow our backs and, together with the internationale proletariat, in serious ranks and with firm step, we shall march on to revolution."

Enough such proclamations.

CHURCH NOTICES.

Manifestoes have been issued to all workers. Every important political event brings forth a new crop in which the "wrong" of the proletariat are emphasized and the clarion call to world revolution is trumpeted to all who will hear. I will conclude, however, with a brief specimen from the careful preparation which, in the fall of 1923, the Moscow conspirators were making with a view to attempting a coup d'etat in Germany. The coup d'etat failed, but not until there had been serious troubles and with many casualties. These troubles began with strikes and, in order to arouse world sympathy for the strikers, the executive committee of the third internationale and the executive bureau of the red internationale of trade unions collaborated on a circular. The appeal for Germany.

Following is their combined appeal:

"To the workmen and women workers of all countries:

"Comrades: Proletariat of all countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

countries: We call upon you to raise your arm in defense of the German proletariat. At mass meetings all over the world directs the attention of the world's proletariat to events in Germany. Collect money everywhere for the support of the strikers. Long live the international solidarity of the proletariat—Long live help to the German proletariat! Long live the communist internationale!"

This same sort of incendiary stuff is still being sent out from Moscow almost daily to some part of the world and in the course of any given month or so there is no noncommunist country that

PHOTOPLAY THEATERS

GRAND CENTRAL LYRIC SKYDOME WEST END LYRIC AND CAPITOL

Samuel Goldwyn Presents

A GEORGE FITZMAURICE Production

"HIS SUPREME MOMENT"

With BLANCH RONALD SWEET COLMAN

A First National Picture

Elinor Glyn Did Not Write the Story, but Many Will Believe She Did.

Grand Central Only

STUART BARRIE

Playing "THE OLD-FASHIONED MOVIE"

An Organ Solo of Laughs

KINGS GARDEN & THEATRE KINGS HIGHWAY BLVD. DELMAR RIVOLI SIXTH ST. NEAR OLIVE

Now playing father & son Rivals for the love of the same woman

The Best Picture of the Entire Year

IRENE RICH JOHN ROCHE CONSTANCE BENNETT HUNTLY GORDON JOHN HARRON

Opens Tonight The Cool Kings Garden

LOEW'S STATE

The Coolest Spot in Town

STARTS TODAY

MARION DAVIES

IN "ZANDER THE GREAT"

Not a costume picture—Not a sizzling, modern comedy drama. Greater than any of Marion Davies' previous pictures.

ON THE STAGE

MEXICAN RIO GRANDE SERENADERS

Internationally Famous Orchestras With Feature Dancers

"Our Tribute to Victor Herbert"

Featuring Amie Punahon and Paul Simmons

DON ALBERT'S ORCHESTRA

VANDERBILT WEDDING JULY 25

Miss Muriel to Become Bride of F. C. Church Jr., at Newport.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The marriage of Miss Muriel Vanderbilt to Frederic Cameron Church Jr. of Boston, it was learned today, will take place July 25 at Beechmont, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Thaw's home at Newport, which Miss Vanderbilt's mother has taken for the summer.

The wedding party, according to present plans, will be small. Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Kenneth R. Vanderbilt will be bridesmaids.

Dodd W. Gibson of Webster Groves will be a witness Monday. He will be questioned, it is understood, about his sale of a $7500 certificate of deposit of the Gorin bank to a Cape Girardeau bank, which bought it only after communicating with the bank and being informed the certificate was good. It proved to be spurious, and the buyer has a claim for that amount against the defunct bank. Gibson will be asked how he obtained the certificate. The principal witness yesterday was Charles G. Revelle, receiver for the Interstate Casualty Co., which was dominated by Jerome B. McCutchan of St. Louis, who also dominated the Gorin bank. Revelle told the correspondent that the assets of the Interstate, listed in excess of $800,000, are such that about half that sum will be realized. In addition the capital stock of $500,000 is wiped out. The Interstate lost heavily in its dealings with the Gorin bank, he said.

Twenty-five witnesses were heard this week, and a dozen more will testify next week. McCutchan's trial on two charges of grand larceny, in connection with a loss of $18,000 to the bank, will be Aug. 24. This was agreed upon here yesterday at a conference in which McCutchan participated. Meanwhile, McCutchan continues under $25,000 bond.

Dr. Edward Randall, who is Althaus from the Second Ward, in North St. Louis, introduced the repeal ordinance of his own volition yesterday, it being simply "a bill to repeal ordinance No. 31,326." It occasioned no comment at the time but a Post-Dispatch reporter discovered its purport today and questioned Alderman Randall about it.

Considered Vital by Police.

"I don't believe in such a law," Alderman Randall said. "My idea of a vagrant is that he is a bum, who is unable to live and nothing but a pest to the community and a menace to the community and has to steal to live. A man who can take care of himself shouldn't be classed as a vagrant, even if he takes a bet now and then. The police have been arresting all sorts of people under this ordinance."

Use of the vagrancy ordinance began with the primary idea of getting convictions against horse-racing bookmakers, since it was usually made it virtually impossible to convict them of gambling. It is considered by the police that it is vital to the war on crime to stop gambling of all sorts.

Mayor's Veto an Obstacle.

The alleged bookmakers were fined $200 each as "vagrants" by Police Judge Rosecan on Thursday, at the same time that the other court was hearing appeals from vagrancy fines assessed by Police Judges Beck and Rosecan. The Police Judges were appointed by Mayor Miller, under his "law enforcement" policy and took office on May 1, the same day the ordinance was announced that the vagrancy ordinance would be invoked.

On first consideration, at City Hall it is believed possible that the repeal ordinance may be passed. However, in view of Mayor Miller's attitude, it is likely he would veto it, and there is some doubt whether the necessary two-thirds vote to pass it over his veto would be obtained. The repeal bill was not yet referred to committee.

Law Includes Gamblers.

The repeal bill carries an emergency clause, which would make it effective at once upon arrival.

The vagrancy ordinance, which was approved on July 5, 1921, and carries a maximum fine for violation of $300, defines vagrants as follows:

"Every person without any visible means of support, who may be found loitering around houses of fame, gambling houses or places where liquors are sold or drunk, or every person who shall attend or create any gambling device or every person engaged in practicing any trick or device to procure money or other thing of value. 4. Every person who shall be engaged in any unlawful calling whatsoever."

It is so the last clause especially that the police are relying. Judge Rosecan, in fining the alleged bookmakers on Thursday, said that that of guilt, beyond a shade of doubt, is not required under this ordinance, but that the fact could infer guilt. He thought that the men then before him were gamblers. One of these was Tom Kearney, widely known as a gambler, who conducts a large store at 407 Walnut street. He was fined $200 under the vagrancy ordinance, and appealed.

A salesman Makes Journey in Two Hours That Takes Two Weeks by Road.

By the Associated Press.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, May 23.—The first commercial airplane trip south of the Arctic Circle was made here yesterday by Joe Smith, merchandise broker and commercial traveler of Seattle, San Francisco and Honolulu.

With Noel Wein as a pilot, McHenry for Fork Yukon, with a new line of samples, in two days and 18 minutes. This trip actually takes two weeks by river.

25 WITNESSES NOW HEARD IN GORIN BANK FAILURE

A Dozen More Will Appear Next Week Before Scotland County Grand Jury.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MEMPHIS, Mo., May 23.—The Scotland County grand jury, investigating the official conduct of former State Finance Commissioner Frank C. Mills, is continuing its work.

The Citizens' Trust Co. of Gorin, adjourned late yesterday to Monday morning.

Dodd W. Gibson of Webster Groves will be a witness Monday. He will be questioned, it is understood, about his sale of a $7500 certificate of deposit of the Gorin bank to a Cape Girardeau bank, which bought it only after communicating with the bank and being informed the certificate was good. It proved to be spurious, and the buyer has a claim for that amount against the defunct bank. Gibson will be asked how he obtained the certificate. The principal witness yesterday was Charles G. Revelle, receiver for the Interstate Casualty Co., which was dominated by Jerome B. McCutchan of St. Louis, who also dominated the Gorin bank. Revelle told the correspondent that the assets of the Interstate, listed in excess of $800,000, are such that about half that sum will be realized. In addition the capital stock of $500,000 is wiped out. The Interstate lost heavily in its dealings with the Gorin bank, he said.

Twenty-five witnesses were heard this week, and a dozen more will testify next week. McCutchan's trial on two charges of grand larceny, in connection with a loss of $18,000 to the bank, will be Aug. 24. This was agreed upon here yesterday at a conference in which McCutchan participated. Meanwhile, McCutchan continues under $25,000 bond.

Dr. Edward Randall, who is Althaus from the Second Ward, in North St. Louis, introduced the repeal ordinance of his own volition yesterday, it being simply "a bill to repeal ordinance No. 31,326." It occasioned no comment at the time but a Post-Dispatch reporter discovered its purport today and questioned Alderman Randall about it.

Considered Vital by Police.

"I don't believe in such a law," Alderman Randall said. "My idea of a vagrant is that he is a bum, who is unable to live and nothing but a pest to the community and a menace to the community and has to steal to live. A man who can take care of himself shouldn't be classed as a vagrant, even if he takes a bet now and then. The police have been arresting all sorts of people under this ordinance."

Use of the vagrancy ordinance began with the primary idea of getting convictions against horse-racing bookmakers, since it was usually made it virtually impossible to convict them of gambling. It is considered by the police that it is vital to the war on crime to stop gambling of all sorts.

Mayor's Veto an Obstacle.

The alleged bookmakers were fined $200 each as "vagrants" by Police Judge Rosecan on Thursday, at the same time that the other court was hearing appeals from vagrancy fines assessed by Police Judges Beck and Rosecan. The Police Judges were appointed by Mayor Miller, under his "law enforcement" policy and took office on May 1, the same day the ordinance was announced that the vagrancy ordinance would be invoked.

On first consideration, at City Hall it is believed possible that the repeal ordinance may be passed. However, in view of Mayor Miller's attitude, it is likely he would veto it, and there is some doubt whether the necessary two-thirds vote to pass it over his veto would be obtained. The repeal bill was not yet referred to committee.

Law Includes Gamblers.

The repeal bill carries an emergency clause, which would make it effective at once upon arrival.

The vagrancy ordinance, which was approved on July 5, 1921, and carries a maximum fine for violation of $300, defines vagrants as follows:

"Every person without any visible means of support, who may be found loitering around houses of fame, gambling houses or places where liquors are sold or drunk, or every person who shall attend or create any gambling device or every person engaged in practicing any trick or device to procure money or other thing of value. 4. Every person who shall be engaged in any unlawful calling whatsoever."

It is so the last clause especially that the police are relying. Judge Rosecan, in fining the alleged bookmakers on Thursday, said that that of guilt, beyond a shade of doubt, is not required under this ordinance, but that the fact could infer guilt. He thought that the men then before him were gamblers. One of these was Tom Kearney, widely known as a gambler, who conducts a large store at 407 Walnut street. He was fined $200 under the vagrancy ordinance, and appealed.

A salesman Makes Journey in Two Hours That Takes Two Weeks by Road.

By the Associated Press.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, May 23.—The first commercial airplane trip south of the Arctic Circle was made here yesterday by Joe Smith, merchandise broker and commercial traveler of Seattle, San Francisco and Honolulu.

With Noel Wein as a pilot, McHenry for Fork Yukon, with a new line of samples, in two days and 18 minutes. This trip actually takes two weeks by river.

VANDERBILT WEDDING JULY 25

Miss Muriel to Become Bride of F. C. Church Jr., at Newport.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The marriage of Miss Muriel Vanderbilt to Frederic Cameron Church Jr. of Boston, it was learned today, will take place July 25 at Beechmont, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Thaw's home at Newport, which Miss Vanderbilt's mother has taken for the summer.

The wedding party, according to present plans, will be small. Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Kenneth R. Vanderbilt will be bridesmaids.

Dodd W. Gibson of Webster Groves will be a witness Monday. He will be questioned, it is understood, about his sale of a $7500 certificate of deposit of the Gorin bank to a Cape Girardeau bank, which bought it only after communicating with the bank and being informed the certificate was good. It proved to be spurious, and the buyer has a claim for that amount against the defunct bank. Gibson will be asked how he obtained the certificate. The principal witness yesterday was Charles G. Revelle, receiver for the Interstate Casualty Co., which was dominated by Jerome B. McCutchan of St. Louis, who also dominated the Gorin bank. Revelle told the correspondent that the assets of the Interstate, listed in excess of $800,000, are such that about half that sum will be realized. In addition the capital stock of $500,000 is wiped out. The Interstate lost heavily in its dealings with the Gorin bank, he said.

Twenty-five witnesses were heard this week, and a dozen more will testify next week. McCutchan's trial on two charges of grand larceny, in connection with a loss of $18,000 to the bank, will be Aug. 24. This was agreed upon here yesterday at a conference in which McCutchan participated. Meanwhile, McCutchan continues under $25,000 bond.

Dr. Edward Randall, who is Althaus from the Second Ward, in North St. Louis, introduced the repeal ordinance of his own volition yesterday, it being simply "a bill to repeal ordinance No. 31,326." It occasioned no comment at the time but a Post-Dispatch reporter discovered its purport today and questioned Alderman Randall about it.

Considered Vital by Police.

"I don't believe in such a law," Alderman Randall said. "My idea of a vagrant is that he is a bum, who is unable to live and nothing but a pest to the community and a menace to the community and has to steal to live. A man who can take care of himself shouldn't be classed as a vagrant, even if he takes a bet now and then. The police have been arresting all sorts of people under this ordinance."

Use of the vagrancy ordinance began with the primary idea of getting convictions against horse-racing bookmakers, since it was usually made it virtually impossible to convict them of gambling. It is considered by the police that it is vital to the war on crime to stop gambling of all sorts.

Mayor's Veto an Obstacle.

The alleged bookmakers were fined $200 each as "vagrants" by Police Judge Rosecan on Thursday, at the same time that the other court was hearing appeals from vagrancy fines assessed by Police Judges Beck and Rosecan. The Police Judges were appointed by Mayor Miller, under his "law enforcement" policy and took office on May 1, the same day the ordinance was announced that the vagrancy ordinance would be invoked.

On first consideration, at City Hall it is believed possible that the repeal ordinance may be passed. However, in view of Mayor Miller's attitude, it is likely he would veto it, and there is some doubt whether the necessary two-thirds vote to pass it over his veto would be obtained. The repeal bill was not yet referred to committee.

Law Includes Gamblers.

The repeal bill carries an emergency clause, which would make it effective at once upon arrival.

The vagrancy ordinance, which was approved on July 5, 1921, and carries a maximum fine for violation of $300, defines vagrants as follows:

"Every person without any visible means of support, who may be found loitering around houses of fame, gambling houses or places where liquors are sold or drunk, or every person who shall attend or create any gambling device or every person engaged in practicing any trick or device to procure money or other thing of value. 4. Every person who shall be engaged in any unlawful calling whatsoever."

It is so the last clause especially that the police are relying. Judge Rosecan, in fining the alleged bookmakers on Thursday, said that that of guilt, beyond a shade of doubt, is not required under this ordinance, but that the fact could infer guilt. He thought that the men then before him were gamblers. One of these was Tom Kearney, widely known as a gambler, who conducts a large store at 407 Walnut street. He was fined $200 under the vagrancy ordinance, and appealed.

A salesman Makes Journey in Two Hours That Takes Two Weeks by Road.

By the Associated Press.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, May 23.—The first commercial airplane trip south of the Arctic Circle was made here yesterday by Joe Smith, merchandise broker and commercial traveler of Seattle, San Francisco and Honolulu.

With Noel Wein as a pilot, McHenry for Fork Yukon, with a new line of samples, in two days and 18 minutes. This trip actually takes two weeks by river.

VANDERBILT WEDDING JULY 25

Miss Muriel to Become Bride of F. C. Church Jr., at Newport.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The marriage of Miss Muriel Vanderbilt to Frederic Cameron Church Jr. of Boston, it was learned today, will take place July 25 at Beechmont, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Thaw's home at Newport, which Miss Vanderbilt's mother has taken for the summer.

The wedding party, according to present plans, will be small. Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Kenneth R. Vanderbilt will be bridesmaids.

Dodd W. Gibson of Webster Groves will be a witness Monday. He will be questioned, it is understood, about his sale of a $7500 certificate of deposit of the Gorin bank to a Cape Girardeau bank, which bought it only after communicating with the bank and being informed the certificate was good. It proved to be spurious, and the buyer has a claim for that amount against the defunct bank. Gibson will be asked how he obtained the certificate. The principal witness yesterday was Charles G. Revelle, receiver for the Interstate Casualty Co., which was dominated by Jerome B. McCutchan of St. Louis, who also dominated the Gorin bank. Revelle told the correspondent that the assets of the Interstate, listed in excess of $800,000, are such that about half that sum will be realized. In addition the capital stock of $500,000 is wiped out. The Interstate lost heavily in its dealings with the Gorin bank, he said.

Twenty-five witnesses were heard this week, and a dozen more will testify next week. McCutchan's trial on two charges of grand larceny, in connection with a loss of $18,000 to the bank, will be Aug. 24. This was agreed upon here yesterday at a conference in which McCutchan participated. Meanwhile, McCutchan continues under $25,000 bond.

Dr. Edward Randall, who is Althaus from the Second Ward, in North St. Louis, introduced the repeal ordinance of his own volition yesterday, it being simply "a bill to repeal ordinance No. 31,326." It occasioned no comment at the time but a Post-Dispatch reporter discovered its purport today and questioned Alderman Randall about it.

Considered Vital by Police.

"I don't believe in such a law," Alderman Randall said. "My idea of a vagrant is that he is a bum, who is unable to live and nothing but a pest to the community and a menace to the community and has to steal to live. A man who can take care of himself shouldn't be classed as a vagrant, even if he takes a bet now and then. The police have been arresting all sorts of people under this ordinance."

Use of the vagrancy ordinance began with the primary idea of getting convictions against horse-racing bookmakers, since it was usually made it virtually impossible to convict them of gambling. It is considered by the police that it is vital to the war on crime to stop gambling of all sorts.

Mayor's Veto an Obstacle.

The alleged bookmakers were fined $200 each as "vagrants" by Police Judge Rosecan on Thursday, at the same time that the other court was hearing appeals from vagrancy fines assessed by Police Judges Beck and Rosecan. The Police Judges were appointed by Mayor Miller, under his "law enforcement" policy and took office on May 1, the same day the ordinance was announced that the vagrancy ordinance would be invoked.

On first consideration, at City Hall it is believed possible that the repeal ordinance may be passed. However, in view of Mayor Miller's attitude, it is likely he would veto it, and there is some doubt whether the necessary two-thirds vote to pass it over his veto would be obtained. The repeal bill was not yet referred to committee.

Law Includes Gamblers.

The repeal bill carries an emergency clause, which would make it effective at once upon arrival.

The vagrancy ordinance, which was approved on July 5, 1921, and carries a maximum fine for violation of $300, defines vagrants as follows:

"Every person without any visible means of support, who may be found loitering around houses of fame, gambling houses or places where liquors are sold or drunk, or every person who shall attend or create any gambling device or every person engaged in practicing any trick or device to procure money or other thing of value. 4. Every person who shall be engaged in any unlawful calling whatsoever."

It is so the last clause especially that the police are relying. Judge Rosecan, in fining the alleged bookmakers on Thursday, said that that of guilt, beyond a shade of doubt, is not required under this ordinance, but that the fact could infer guilt. He thought that the men then before him were gamblers. One of these was Tom Kearney, widely known as a gambler, who conducts a large store at 407 Walnut street. He was fined $200 under the vagrancy ordinance, and appealed.

A salesman Makes Journey in Two Hours That Takes Two Weeks by Road.

By the Associated Press.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, May 23.—The first commercial airplane trip south of the Arctic Circle was made here yesterday by Joe Smith, merchandise broker and commercial traveler of Seattle, San Francisco and Honolulu.

With Noel Wein as a pilot, McHenry for Fork Yukon, with a new line of samples, in two days and 18 minutes. This trip actually takes two weeks by river.

VANDERBILT WEDDING JULY 25

Miss Muriel to Become Bride of F. C. Church Jr., at Newport.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The marriage of Miss Muriel Vanderbilt to Frederic Cameron Church Jr. of Boston, it was learned today, will take place July 25 at Beechmont, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Thaw's home at Newport, which Miss Vanderbilt's mother has taken for the summer.

The wedding party, according to present plans, will be small. Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Kenneth R. Vanderbilt will be bridesmaids.

Dodd W. Gibson of Webster Groves will be a witness Monday. He will be questioned, it is understood, about his sale of a $7500 certificate of deposit of the Gorin bank to a Cape Girardeau bank, which bought it only after communicating with the bank and being informed the certificate was good. It proved to be spurious, and the buyer has a claim for that amount against the defunct bank. Gibson will be asked how he obtained the certificate. The principal witness yesterday was Charles G. Revelle, receiver for the Interstate Casualty Co., which was dominated by Jerome B. McCutchan of St. Louis, who also dominated the Gorin bank. Revelle told the correspondent that the assets of the Interstate, listed in excess of $800,000, are such that about half that sum will be realized. In addition the capital stock of $500,000 is wiped out. The Interstate lost heavily in its dealings with the Gorin bank, he said.

Twenty-five witnesses were heard this week, and a dozen more will testify next week. McCutchan's trial on two charges of grand larceny, in connection with a loss of $18,000 to the bank, will be Aug. 24. This was agreed upon here yesterday at a conference in which McCutchan participated. Meanwhile, McCutchan continues under $25,000 bond.

Dr. Edward Randall, who is Althaus from the Second Ward, in North St. Louis, introduced the repeal ordinance of his own volition yesterday, it being simply "a bill to repeal ordinance No. 31,326." It occasioned no comment at the time but a Post-Dispatch reporter discovered its purport today and questioned Alderman Randall about it.

Considered Vital by Police.

"I don't believe in such a law," Alderman Randall said. "My idea of a vagrant is that he is a bum, who is unable to live and nothing but a pest to the community and a menace to the community and has to steal to live. A man who can take care of himself shouldn't be classed as a vagrant, even if he takes a bet now and then. The police have been arresting all sorts of people under this ordinance."

Use of the vagrancy ordinance began with the primary idea of getting convictions against horse-racing bookmakers, since it was usually made it virtually impossible to convict them of gambling. It is considered by the police that it is vital to the war on crime to stop gambling of all sorts.

Mayor's Veto an Obstacle.

The alleged bookmakers were fined $200 each as "vagrants" by Police Judge Rosecan on Thursday, at the same time that the other court was hearing appeals from vagrancy fines assessed by Police Judges Beck and Rosecan. The Police Judges were appointed by Mayor Miller, under his "law enforcement" policy and took office on May 1, the same day the ordinance was announced that the vagrancy ordinance would be invoked.

On first consideration, at City Hall it is believed possible that the repeal ordinance may be passed. However, in view of Mayor Miller's attitude, it is likely he would veto it, and there is some doubt whether the necessary two-thirds vote to pass it over his veto would be obtained. The repeal bill was not yet referred to committee.

Law Includes Gamblers.

The repeal bill carries an emergency clause, which would make it effective at once upon arrival.

The vagrancy ordinance, which was approved on July 5, 1921, and carries a maximum fine for violation of $300, defines vagrants as follows:

"Every person without any visible means of support, who may be found loitering around houses of fame, gambling houses or places where liquors are sold or drunk, or every person who shall attend or create any gambling device or every person engaged in practicing any trick or device to procure money or other thing of value. 4. Every person who shall be engaged in any unlawful calling whatsoever."

It is so the last clause especially that the police are relying. Judge Rosecan, in fining the alleged bookmakers on Thursday, said that that of guilt, beyond a shade of doubt, is not required under this ordinance, but that the fact could infer guilt. He thought that the men then before him were gamblers. One of these was Tom Kearney, widely known as a gambler, who conducts a large store at 407 Walnut street. He was fined $200 under the vagrancy ordinance, and appealed.

A salesman Makes Journey in Two Hours That Takes Two Weeks by Road.

By the Associated Press.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, May 23.—The first commercial airplane trip south of the Arctic Circle was made here yesterday by Joe Smith, merchandise broker and commercial traveler of Seattle, San Francisco and Honolulu.

With Noel Wein as a pilot, McHenry for Fork Yukon, with a new line of samples, in two days and 18 minutes. This trip actually takes two weeks by river.

VANDERBILT WEDDING JULY 25

Miss Muriel to Become Bride of F. C. Church Jr., at Newport.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The marriage of Miss Muriel Vanderbilt to Frederic Cameron Church Jr. of Boston, it was learned today, will take place July 25 at Beechmont, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Thaw's home at Newport, which Miss Vanderbilt's mother has taken for the summer.

The wedding party, according to present plans, will be small. Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Kenneth R. Vanderbilt will be bridesmaids.

Dodd W. Gibson of Webster Groves will be a witness Monday. He will be questioned, it is understood, about his sale of a $7500 certificate of deposit of the Gorin bank to a Cape Girardeau bank, which bought it only after communicating with the bank and being informed the certificate was good. It proved to be spurious, and the buyer has a claim for that amount against the defunct bank. Gibson will be asked how he obtained the certificate. The principal witness yesterday was Charles G. Revelle, receiver for the Interstate Casualty Co., which was dominated by Jerome B. McCutchan of St. Louis, who also dominated the Gorin bank. Revelle told the correspondent that the assets of the Interstate, listed in excess of $800,000, are such that about half that sum will be realized. In addition the capital stock of $500,000 is wiped out. The Interstate lost heavily in its dealings with the Gorin bank, he said.

Twenty-five witnesses were heard this week, and a dozen more will testify next week. McCutchan's trial on two charges of grand larceny, in connection with a loss of $18,000 to the bank, will be Aug. 24. This was agreed upon here yesterday at a conference in which McCutchan participated. Meanwhile, McCutchan continues under $25,000 bond.

Dr. Edward Randall, who is Althaus from the Second Ward, in North St. Louis, introduced the repeal ordinance of his own volition yesterday, it being simply "a bill to repeal ordinance No. 31,326." It occasioned no comment at the time but a Post-Dispatch reporter discovered its purport today and questioned Alderman Randall about it.

Considered Vital by Police.

"I don't believe in such a law," Alderman Randall said. "My idea of a vagrant is that he is a bum, who is unable to live and nothing but a pest to the community and a menace to the community and has to steal to live. A man who can take care of himself shouldn't be classed as a vagrant, even if he takes a bet now and then. The police have been arresting all sorts of people under this ordinance."

Use of the vagrancy ordinance began with the primary idea of getting convictions against horse-racing bookmakers, since it was usually made it virtually impossible to convict them of gambling. It is considered by the police that it is vital to the war on crime to stop gambling of all sorts.

Mayor's Veto an Obstacle.

The alleged bookmakers were fined $200 each as "vagrants" by Police Judge Rosecan on Thursday, at the same time that the other court was hearing appeals from vagrancy fines assessed by Police Judges Beck and Rosecan. The Police Judges were appointed by Mayor Miller, under his "law enforcement" policy and took office on May 1, the same day the ordinance was announced that the vagrancy ordinance would be invoked.

On first consideration, at City Hall it is believed possible that the repeal ordinance may be passed. However, in view of Mayor Miller's attitude, it is likely he would veto it, and there is some doubt whether the necessary two-thirds vote to pass it over his veto would be obtained. The repeal bill was not yet referred to committee.

Law Includes Gamblers.

The repeal bill carries an emergency clause, which would make it effective at once upon arrival.

The vagrancy ordinance, which was approved on July 5, 1921, and carries a maximum fine for violation of $300, defines vagrants as follows:

"Every person without any visible means of support, who may be found loitering around houses of fame, gambling houses or places where liquors are sold or drunk, or every person who shall attend or create any gambling device or every person engaged in practicing any trick or device to procure money or other thing of value. 4. Every person who shall be engaged in any unlawful calling whatsoever."

It is so the last clause especially that the police are relying. Judge Rosecan, in fining the alleged bookmakers on Thursday, said that that of guilt, beyond a shade of doubt, is not required under this ordinance, but that the fact could infer guilt. He thought that the men then before him were gamblers. One of these was Tom Kearney, widely known as a gambler, who conducts a large store at 407 Walnut street. He was fined $200 under the vagrancy ordinance, and appealed.

A salesman Makes Journey in Two Hours That Takes Two Weeks by Road.

By the Associated Press.

IF YOU'VE DECIDED TO EXPAND YOUR BUSINESS and add to your Staff, find the right people through these columns.

ELECTRIC WIRING, ETC.

1311-1313-1315-1317-1319-1321-1323-1325-1327-1329-1331-1333-1335-1337-1339-1341-1343-1345-1347-1349-1351-1353-1355-1357-1359-1361-1363-1365-1367-1369-1371-1373-1375-1377-1379-1381-1383-1385-1387-1389-1391-1393-1395-1397-1399-1401-1403-1405-1407-1409-1411-1413-1415-1417-1419-1421-1423-1425-1427-1429-1431-1433-1435-1437-1439-1441-1443-1445-1447-1449-1451-1453-1455-1457-1459-1461-1463-1465-1467-1469-1471-1473-1475-1477-1479-1481-1483-1485-1487-1489-1491-1493-1495-1497-1499-1501-1503-1505-1507-1509-1511-1513-1515-1517-1519-1521-1523-1525-1527-1529-1531-1533-1535-1537-1539-1541-1543-1545-1547-1549-1551-1553-1555-1557-1559-1561-1563-1565-1567-1569-1571-1573-1575-1577-1579-1581-1583-1585-1587-1589-1591-1593-1595-1597-1599-1601-1603-1605-1607-1609-1611-1613-1615-1617-1619-1621-1623-1625-1627-1629-1631-1633-1635-1637-1639-1641-1643-1645-1647-1649-1651-1653-1655-1657-1659-1661-1663-1665-1667-1669-1671-1673-1675-1677-1679-1681-1683-1685-1687-1689-1691-1693-1695-1697-1699-1701-1703-1705-1707-1709-1711-1713-1715-1717-1719-1721-1723-1725-1727-1729-1731-1733-1735-1737-1739-1741-1743-1745-1747-1749-1751-1753-1755-1757-1759-1761-1763-1765-1767-1769-1771-1773-1775-1777-1779-1781-1783-1785-1787-1789-1791-1793-1795-1797-1799-1801-1803-1805-1807-1809-1811-1813-1815-1817-1819-1821-1823-1825-1827-1829-1831-1833-1835-1837-1839-1841-1843-1845-1847-1849-1851-1853-1855-1857-1859-1861-1863-1865-1867-1869-1871-1873-1875-1877-1879-1881-1883-1885-1887-1889-1891-1893-1895-1897-1899-1901-1903-1905-1907-1909-1911-1913-1915-1917-1919-1921-1923-1925-1927-1929-1931-1933-1935-1937-1939-1941-1943-1945-1947-1949-1951-1953-1955-1957-1959-1961-1963-1965-1967-1969-1971-1973-1975-1977-1979-1981-1983-1985-1987-1989-1991-1993-1995-1997-1999-2001-2003-2005-2007-2009-2011-2013-2015-2017-2019-2021-2023-2025-2027-2029-2031-2033-2035-2037-2039-2041-2043-2045-2047-2049-2051-2053-2055-2057-2059-2061-2063-2065-2067-2069-2071-2073-2075-2077-2079-2081-2083-2085-2087-2089-2091-2093-2095-2097-2099-2101-2103-2105-2107-2109-2111-2113-2115-2117-2119-2121-2123-2125-2127-2129-2131-2133-2135-2137-2139-2141-2143-2145-2147-2149-2151-2153-2155-2157-2159-2161-2163-2165-2167-2169-2171-2173-2175-2177-2179-2181-2183-2185-2187-2189-2191-2193-2195-2197-2199-2201-2203-2205-2207-2209-2211-2213-2215-2217-2219-2221-2223-2225-2227-2229-2231-2233-2235-2237-2239-2241-2243-2245-2247-2249-2251-2253-2255-2257-2259-2261-2263-2265-2267-2269-2271-2273-2275-2277-2279-2281-2283-2285-2287-2289-2291-2293-2295-2297-2299-2301-2303-2305-2307-2309-2311-2313-2315-2317-2319-2321-2323-2325-2327-2329-2331-2333-2335-2337-2339-2341-2343-2345-2347-2349-2351-2353-2355-2357-2359-2361-2363-2365-2367-2369-2371-2373-2375-2377-2379-2381-2383-2385-2387-2389-2391-2393-2395-2397-2399-2401-2403-2405-2407-2409-2411-2413-2415-2417-2419-2421-2423-2425-2427-2429-2431-2433-2435-2437-2439-2441-2443-2445-2447-2449-2451-2453-2455-2457-2459-2461-2463-2465-2467-2469-2471-2473-2475-2477-2479-2481-2483-2485-2487-2489-2491-2493-2495-2497-2499-2501-2503-2505-2507-2509-2511-2513-2515-2517-2519-2521-2523-2525-2527-2529-2531-2533-2535-2537-2539-2541-2543-2545-2547-2549-2551-2553-2555-2557-2559-2561-2563-2565-2567-2569-2571-2573-2575-2577-2579-2581-2583-2585-2587-2589-2591-2593-2595-2597-2599-2601-2603-2605-2607-2609-2611-2613-2615-2617-2619-2621-2623-2625-2627-2629-2631-2633-2635-2637-2639-2641-2643-2645-2647-2649-2651-2653-2655-2657-2659-2661-2663-2665-2667-2669-2671-2673-2675-2677-2679-2681-2683-2685-2687-2689-2691-2693-2695-2697-2699-2701-2703-2705-2707-2709-2711-2713-2715-2717-2719-2721-2723-2725-2727-2729-2731-2733-2735-2737-2739-2741-2743-2745-2747-2749-2751-2753-2755-2757-2759-2761-2763-2765-2767-2769-2771-2773-2775-2777-2779-2781-2783-2785-2787-2789-2791-2793-2795-2797-2799-2801-2803-2805-2807-2809-2811-2813-2815-2817-2819-2821-2823-2825-2827-2829-2831-2833-2835-2837-2839-2841-2843-2845-2847-2849-2851-2853-2855-2857-2859-2861-2863-2865-2867-2869-2871-2873-2875-2877-2879-2881-2883-2885-2887-2889-2891-2893-2895-2897-2899-2901-2903-2905-2907-2909-2911-2913-2915-2917-2919-2921-2923-2925-2927-2929-2931-2933-2935-2937-2939-2941-2943-2945-2947-2949-2951-2953-2955-2957-2959-2961-2963-2965-2967-2969-2971-2973-2975-2977-2979-2981-2983-2985-2987-2989-2991-2993-2995-2997-2999-3001-3003-3005-3007-3009-3011-3013-3015-3017-3019-3021-3023-3025-3027-3029-3031-3033-3035-3037-3039-3041-3043-3045-3047-3049-3051-3053-3055-3057-3059-3061-3063-3065-3067-3069-3071-3073-3075-3077-3079-3081-3083-3085-3087-3089-3091-3093-3095-3097-3099-3101-3103-3105-3107-3109-3111-3113-3115-3117-3119-3121-3123-3125-3127-3129-3131-3133-3135-3137-3139-3141-3143-3145-3147-3149-3151-3153-3155-3157-3159-3161-3163-3165-3167-3169-3171-3173-3175-3177-3179-3181-3183-3185-3187-3189-3191-3193-3195-3197-3199-3201-3203-3205-3207-3209-3211-3213-3215-3217-3219-3221-3223-3225-3227-3229-3231-3233-3235-3237-3239-3241-3243-3245-3247-3249-3251-3253-3255-3257-3259-3261-3263-3265-3267-3269-3271-3273-3275-3277-3279-3281-3283-3285-3287-3289-3291-3293-3295-3297-3299-3301-3303-3305-3307-3309-3311-3313-3315-3317-3319-3321-3323-3325-3327-3329-3331-3333-3335-3337-3339-3341-3343-3345-3347-3349-3351-3353-3355-3357-3359-3361-3363-3365-3367-3369-3371-3373-3375-3377-3379-3381-3383-3385-3387-3389-3391-3393-3395-3397-3399-3401-3403-3405-3407-3409-3411-3413-3415-3417-3419-3421-3423-3425-3427-3429-3431-3433-3435-3437-3439-3441-3443-3445-3447-3449-3451-3453-3455-3457-3459-3461-3463-3465-3467-3469-3471-3473-3475-3477-3479-3481-3483-3485-3487-3489-3491-3493-3495-3497-3499-3501-3503-3505-3507-3509-3511-3513-3515-3517-3519-3521-3523-3525-3527-3529-3531-3533-3535-3537-3539-3541-3543-3545-3547-3549-3551-3553-3555-3557-3559-3561-3563-3565-3567-3569-3571-3573-3575-3577-3579-3581-3583-3585-3587-3589-3591-3593-3595-3597-3599-3601-3603-3605-3607-3609-3611-3613-3615-3617-3619-3621-3623-3625-3627-3629-3631-3633-3635-3637-3639-3641-3643-3645-3647-3649-3651-3653-3655-3657-3659-3661-3663-3665-3667-3669-3671-3673-3675-3677-3679-3681-3683-3685-3687-3689-3691-3693-3695-3697-3699-3701-3703-3705-3707-3709-3711-3713-3715-3717-3719-3721-3723-3725-3727-3729-3731-3733-3735-3737-3739-3741-3743-3745-3747-3749-3751-3753-3755-3757-3759-3761-3763-3765-3767-3769-3771-3773-3775-3777-3779-3781-3783-3785-3787-3789-3791-3793-3795-3797-3799-3801-3803-3805-3807-3809-3811-3813-3815-3817-3819-3821-3823-3825-3827-3829-3831-3833-3835-3837-3839-3841-3843-3845-3847-3849-3851-3853-3855-3857-3859-3861-3863-3865-3867-3869-3871-3873-3875-3877-3879-3881-3883-3885-3887-3889-3891-3893-3895-3897-3899-3901-3903-3905-3907-3909-3911-3913-3915-3917-3919-3921-3923-3925-3927-3929-3931-3933-3935-3937-3939-3941-3943-3945-3947-3949-3951-3953-3955-3957-3959-3961-3963-3965-3967-3969-3971-3973-3975-3977-3979-3981-3983-3985-3987-3989-3991-3993-3995-3997-3999-4001-4003-4005-4007-4009-4011-4013-4015-4017-4019-4021-4023-4025-4027-4029-4031-4033-4035-4037-4039-4041-4043-4045-4047-4049-4051-4053-4055-4057-4059-4061-4063-4065-4067-4069-4071-4073-4075-4077-4079-4081-4083-4085-4087-4089-4091-4093-4095-4097-4099-4101-4103-4105-4107-4109-4111-4113-4115-4117-4119-4121-4123-4125-4127-4129-4131-4133-4135-4137-4139-4141-4143-4145-4147-4149-4151-4153-4155-4157-4159-4161-4163-4165-4167-4169-4171-4173-4175-4177-4179-4181-4183-4185-4187-4189-4191-4193-4195-4197-4199-4201-4203-4205-4207-4209-4211-4213-4215-4217-4219-4221-4223-4225-4227-4229-4231-4233-4235-4237-4239-4241-4243-4245-4247-4249-4251-4253-4255-4257-4259-4261-4263-4265-4267-4269-4271-4273-4275-4277-4279-4281-4283-4285-4287-4289-4291-4293-4295-4297-4299-4301-4303-4305-4307-4309-4311-4313-4315-4317-4319-4321-4323-4325-4327-4329-4331-4333-4335-4337-4339-4341-4343-4345-4347-4349-4351-4353-4355-4357-4359-4361-4363-4365-4367-4369-4371-4373-4375-4377-4379-4381-4383-4385-4387-4389-4391-4393-4395-4397-4399-4401-4403-4405-4407-4409-4411-4413-4415-4417-4419-4421-4423-4425-4427-4429-4431-4433-4435-4437-4439-4441-4443-4445-4447-4449-4451-4453-4455-4457-4459-4461-4463-4465-4467-4469-4471-4473-4475-4477-4479-4481-4483-4485-4487-4489-4491-4493-4495-4497-4499-4501-4503-4505-4507-4509-4511-4513-4515-4517-4519-4521-4523-4525-4527-4529-4531-4533-4535-4537-4539-4541-4543-4545-4547-4549-4551-4553-4555-4557-4559-4561-4563-4565-4567-4569-4571-4573-4575-4577-4579-4581-4583-4585-4587-4589-4591-4593-4595-4597-4599-4601-4603-4605-4607-4609-4611-4613-4615-4617-4619-4621-4623-4625-4627-4629-4631-4633-4635-4637-4639-4641-4643-4645-4647-4649-4651-4653-4655-4657-4659-4661-4663-4665-4667-4669-4671-4673-4675-4677-4679-4681-4683-4685-4687-4689-4691-4693-4695-4697-4699-4701-4703-4705-4707-4709-4711-4713-4715-4717-4719-4721-4723-4725-4727-4729-4731-4733-4735-4737-4739-4741-4743-4745-4747-4749-4751-4753-4755-4757-4759-4761-4763-4765-4767-4769-4771-4773-4775-4777-4779-4781-4783-4785-4787-4789-4791-4793-4795-4797-4799-4801-4803-4805-4807-4809-4811-4813-4815-4817-4819-4821-4823-4825-4827-4829-4831-4833-4835-4837-4839-4841-4843-4845-4847-4849-4851-4853-4855-4857-4859-4861-4863-4865-4867-4869-4871-4873-4875-4877-4879-4881-4883-4885-4887-4889-4891-4893-4895-4897-4899-4901-4903-4905-4907-4909-4911-4913-4915-4917-4919-4921-4923-4925-4927-4929-4931-4933-4935-4937-4939-4941-4943-4945-4947-4949-4951-4953-4955-4957-4959-4961-4963-4965-4967-4969-4971-4973-4975-4977-4979-4981-4983-4985-4987-4989-4991-4993-4995-4997-4999-5001-5003-5005-5007-5009-5011-5013-5015-5017-5019-5021-5023-5025-5027-5029-5031-5033-5035-5037-5039-5041-5043-5045-5047-5049-5051-5053-5055-5057-5059-5061-5063-5065-5067-5069-5071-5073-5075-5077-5079-5081-5083-5085-5087-5089-5091-5093-5095-5097-5099-5101-5103-5105-5107-5109-5111-5113-5115-5117-5119-5121-5123-5125-5127-5129-5131-5133-5135-5137-5139-5141-5143-5145-5147-5149-5151-5153-5155-5157-5159-5161-5163-5165-5167-5169-5171-5173-5175-5177-5179-5181-5183-5185-5187-5189-5191-5193-5195-5197-5199-5201-5203-5205-5207-5209-5211-5213-5215-5217-5219-5221-5223-5225-5227-5229-5231-5233-5235-5237-5239-5241-5243-5245-5247-5249-5251-5253-5255-5257-5259-5261-5263-5265-5267-5269-5271-5273-5275-5277-5279-5281-5283-5285-5287-5289-5291-5293-5295-5297-5299-5301-5303-5305-5307-5309-5311-5313-5315-5317-5319-5321-5323-5325-5327-5329-5331-5333-5335-5337-5339-5341-5343-5345-5347-5349-5351-5353-5355-5357-5359-5361-5363-5365-5367-5369-5371-5373-5375-5377-5379-5381-5383-5385-5387-5389-5391-5393-5395-5397-5399-5401-5403-5405-5407-5409-5411-5413-5415-5417-5419-5421-5423-5425-5427-5429-5431-5433-5435-5437-5439-5441-5443-5445-5447-5449-5451-5453-5455-5457-5459-5461-5463-5465-5467-5469-5471-5473-5475-5477-5479-5481-5483-5485-5487-5489-5491-5493-5495-5497-5499-5501-5503-5505-5507-5509-5511-5513-5515-5517-5519-5521-5523-5525-5527-5529-5531-5533-5535-5537-5539-5541-5543-5545-5547-5549-5551-5553-5555-5557-5559-5561-5563-5565-5567-5569-5571-5573-5575-5577-5579-5581-5583-5585-5587-5589-5591-5593-5595-5597-5599-5601-5603-5605-5607-5609-5611-5613-5615-5617-5619-5621-5623-5625-5627-5629-5631-5633-5635-5637-5639-5641-5643-5645-5647-5649-5651-5653-5655-5657-5659-5661-5663-5665-5667-5669-5671-5673-5675-5677-5679-5681-5683-5685-5687-5689-5691-5693-5695-5697-5699-5701-5703-5705-5707-5709-5711-5713-5715-5717-5719-5721-5723-5725-5727-5729-5731-5733-5735-5737-5739-5741-5743-5745-5747-5749-5751-5753-5755-5757-5759-5761-5763-5765-5767-5769-5771-5773-5775-5777-5779-5781-5783-5785-5787-5789-5791-5793-5795-5797-5799-5801-5803-5805-5807-5809-5811-5813-5815-5817-5819-5821-5823-5825-5827-5829-5831-5833-5835-5837-5839-5841-5843-5845-5847-5849-5851-5853-5855-5857-5859-5861-5863-5865-5867-5869-5871-5873-5875-5877-5879-5881-5883-5885-5887-5889-5891-5893-5895-5897-5899-5901-5903-5905-5907-5909-5911-5913-5915-5917-5919-5921-5923-5925-5927-5929-5931-5933-5935-5937-5939-5941-5943-5945-5947-5949-5951-5953-5955-5957-5959-5961-5963-5965-5967-5969-5971-5973-5975-5977-5979-5981-5983-5985-5987-5989-5991-5993-5995-5997-5999-6001-6003-6005-6007-6009-6011-6013-6015-6017-6019-6021-6023-6025-6027-6029-6031-6033-6035-6037-6039-6041-6043-6045-6047-6049-6051-6053-6055-6057-6059-6061-6063-6065-6067-6069-6071-6073-6075-6077-6079-6081-6083-6085-6087-6089-6091-6093-6095-6097-6099-6101-6103-6105-6107-6109-6111-6113-6115-6117-6119-6121-6123-6125-6127-6129-6131-6133-6135-6137-6139-6141-6143-6145-6147-6149-6151-6153-6155-6157-6159-6161-6163-6165-6167-6169-6171-6173-6175-6177-6179-6181-6183-6185-6187-6189

IN FOURTH
—By Ken Kling
NO-I'M STAYIN' HOME TODAY, BUT GIVE ME $5 ON MAD LAY AT BELMONT

5 High Schools Qualify Stars For Field Meet

Preliminary Events for Fifteenth Annual Games Conducted at Francis Field.

FRANCIS FIELD, May 23.—Preliminary events for the fifteenth annual field meet of the St. Louis High School League were decided here this morning. Five city high schools were represented by several hundred athletes.

Competitions in three classes, senior, junior and midjet, were decided. The finals will be held next Friday afternoon, starting at 1 p. m.

The summaries:

SENIOR 100-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 15.4.

SENIOR 200-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 33.4.

SENIOR 400-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 1:13.4.

SENIOR 800-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 2:23.4.

SENIOR 1600-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 5:23.4.

SENIOR 3200-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 10:23.4.

SENIOR 6400-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 20:23.4.

SENIOR 12800-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 40:23.4.

SENIOR 25600-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 80:23.4.

SENIOR 51200-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 160:23.4.

SENIOR 102400-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 320:23.4.

SENIOR 204800-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 640:23.4.

SENIOR 409600-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 1280:23.4.

SENIOR 819200-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 2560:23.4.

SENIOR 1638400-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 5120:23.4.

SENIOR 3276800-YARD DASH—First heat: Zorn, Cleveland, first; Zorn, Cleveland, second; Hartnett, Central, third; Time, 10240:23.4.

SIRESMIE HOWARD SAYS OUTLOOK IN EUROPE IS BLACK

Cataclysm Worse Than War Unless Restoration of Peace Is Quick, British Ambassador Declares.

PAYMENT OF INTEREST ON DEBT INVOLVED

Asserts England's Unfavorable Trade Balance With U. S. Is Menace—Gary Assails High Taxes.

By LOU WIRE FROM THE NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE POST-DISPATCH.
NEW YORK, May 23.—Unless Great Britain's unfavorable trade balance with this country is changed, she cannot continue to meet the interest on her debt to the United States, Sir Esmé Howard, British ambassador, told 1200 members of the American Iron and Steel Institute at their annual dinner at Hotel Commodore last night.

Howard, who is in the city on a mission to the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation and president of the institute, had made an address which his hearers regarded as a pessimistic comment on business conditions in this country. He blamed some members of Congress for injuries to business and declared taxes as well as high.

At the evening meeting the British ambassador followed the recent example of Ambassador Houghton in London by declaring "blood is thicker than water" and "hands across the sea" is a "horizon is lowering."

Talking of "goods across the sea," he referred in detail to depression in many British industries and to England's 1,250,000 unemployed, saying, "Wherever we look the horizon is lowering."

The whole outlook is certainly depressing," he continued, and we cannot see from what side help will come. In any case it will come slowly. The main and greatest factor is re-establishment of peace in Europe and the consequent increase in foreign markets.

But if Great Britain cannot sell her products abroad, she cannot, of course, buy goods in the United States in the same heavy quantities as formerly. "It is a sure, fully realized fact that Great Britain could not carry on an unfavorable balance with the United States forever and yet pay the thirty-two to forty million pounds required per annum to meet her indebtedness to the United States."

"The interest we are absolutely determined to pay, but there may come a time when, unless the world's situation changes for the better, unless we can return to something like pre-war conditions of trade and trade, it would be impossible to make heavy purchases of raw materials from the United States and to pay the interest on our debt."

Turning to general European conditions, he said: "I'm not only speaking for Great Britain but the world at large in declaring that, as I see things, unless we can shortly restore a firm basis of confidence and credit throughout Europe and a return to the natural flow of trade, unless we can work on the principle of goods across the sea, we are heading for a worse cataclysm than that produced by the actual state of war."

Divers Bring Up Ancient Pottery Off Old Carthage

Vessels Curiously Incrusted With Coral-Like Deposit Found by French-American Expedition.

By COUNT BYRON DE PROROK.
Copyright, 1923, by New York Times Co.
DJERBA, May 23.—The strange mass of potteries, dating possibly from Phoenician or at least fairly early times, which form an extremely interesting example of the amazing transformation wrought by the sea, have been brought up by divers to verify the report that a second submerged city is lying in the channel separating this from the island mainland. A mass, that seems on one side solid rock, coated with reddish marine incrustations like coral, shows on the other side three necks of large pottery jars standing almost in line, six and eight inches apart.

A curious feature of these jars is that a little below the necks they have been united by the chemistry of the sea, into a single base. Their thin pottery shells are so perfectly "welded" that it is impossible to see where one jar ends and the next begins. It could not have been better done if a potter had molded one vast jar.

Similar to Old Roman Find.
The necks of two of them, moreover, have been broken vertically and the two ends have lapped over each other exactly as if the pottery had not been made of brittle, baked clay, but with the pliable qualities of molten metals. The interiors of the necks, five inches in diameter, are corrugated and filled with broken shells.

The whole mass, which was found imbedded in sand 50 feet below the surface of the sea, is one yard long, 15 inches wide and one foot high, weighing about 70 pounds. One of the divers who explored the sunken Roman gallery of the city, said that some of the similar solid chunks of pottery were found there.

I am not attempting to state the age of these jars or draw any definite conclusions from them until all such have been examined by experts in marine archaeology, as well as by pottery specialists. To guard against arousing false hopes, it is pointed out that while affording an extremely important clue, it is verily believe, to the real parting of the ways."

"Everything now depends on whether we can establish a sense of security in Europe in the future," he declared. "If, by means of the five-power pact between France, Italy, Great Britain, Germany and Belgium, and the new pact in marine archaeology, as well as by pottery specialists. To guard against arousing false hopes, it is pointed out that while affording an extremely important clue, it is verily believe, to the real parting of the ways."

RIFFIANS HOLDING GROUND AGAINST FRENCH ATTACKS

Despite De Chambrun's Gains, Abd-el-Krim and His Forces Continue to Be Formidable Foes.

ADVANCE ONLY BY BAYONET CHARGES

In Central Sector of the French Zone, Rebels Were Put to Flight—One Tribe Surrenders.

By the Associated Press.
RABAT, French Morocco, May 23.—The Riffian tribesmen are standing their ground stoutly against the forces seeking to oust them from the French zone and, although Gen. Count de Chambrun's success in Thursday's and Friday's operations is unquestioned, Abd-el-Krim and his followers still continue to be formidable foes.

French military men at the headquarters here say the Riffians have shewn themselves to be thoroughly organized along the lines developed during the World War and that the French everywhere in de Chambrun's operations captured the enemy's positions only by bayonet charges.

The French found that the enemy offered the stiffest resistance and have learned that they can attack the Riffians successfully only after good artillery preparations, and that the practice in the World War.

Airplanes Pursue Fleeing Rebels.
The situation of the French forces has been greatly improved by a brilliant operation in the central zone under the direction of de Chambrun.

Two French columns, supported by artillery and aviation, advanced against desperate resistance from the entrenched Riffians and from contingents which hurried from the Northeast and counter-attacked furiously.

The rebels were put to flight, according to the official French communiqué. One tribe is reported to have submitted to the French, and the other tribes are being pursued by airplanes, which are effectively taking the place formerly occupied by the cavalry in such operations.

Heavy Losses to Moors.
The tribesmen's losses were considerable, the communiqué declares, while those suffered by the French were "small, considering the effectiveness engaged." The object of the French attack was to relieve the upper Aures valley. The moral effect of the French successes was even greater than the material. Reports from native sources indicate that it made a great impression among the tribes.

Abd-el-Krim's morale was unaffected, however, reports through the intelligence service show. He is no less determined to prove the general accusations, but gives a list of names of persons with whom Abd-el-Krim dealt in Paris.

"Snow Baby" Christens Arctic Ship

Mrs. Marie Peary Stafford, daughter of the late Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary, the "Snow Baby," who was born near the North Pole than any other white child, christened the "Peary," mother ship of the United States Naval Arctic planes to be carried on board for the MacMillan polar expedition.

The trip under the auspices of the National Geographic Society, is making the dash to claim the undiscovered lands back of the Pole. Donald MacMillan named the boat in honor of the late Admiral, his former commander and discoverer of the North Pole in April 6, 1909. The christening was done in South Brooklyn.

Left to right—Robert Peary, son of the late Admiral, his mother, Mrs. Peary, Donald MacMillan and Mrs. Stafford.

FRANCE BROUGHT ON WAR BY ARMING RIFF AGAINST SPAIN, AVERS 'HUMANITE'

Communist Organ Charges Paris Planned to Break Spanish Hold in Morocco and Then Crush Abd-el-Krim.

By ARNO BOSCH-ILEUROT, Paris Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
Copyright, 1923, by the Press and Publishing Co. (New York World and Post-Dispatch).

PARIS, May 23.—France herself is responsible for the war in Morocco, declares the Communist organ Humanite, by permitting Abd-el-Krim to obtain credit and arms in France. The newspaper, which has been carrying on a violent propaganda against the French in Morocco, declares Abd-el-Krim came to Paris in 1923 with Premier Poincaré's knowledge and arranged to get the arms with which he fought the Spaniards.

Humanite says the motive for letting Abd-el-Krim arm was to break the Spanish hold in Morocco through Abd-el-Krim and then to break Abd-el-Krim, giving France complete control of Morocco, including the mines of the Rif. The newspaper says that the French government has done to get the arms with which he fought the Spaniards.

"In 1923 Abd-el-Krim began making arrangements for a war of liberation against the Spaniards," says Humanite. "Especially to get arms, he came to Paris. He got in touch with the Guebba, 80 Rue St. Lazare, and through this bank arranged intermediaries for negotiations with Poincaré. He also made an agreement with Charles Gardiner, an Englishman, for the purchase of arms and munitions."

NEW QUESTIONS PUT TO CABINET BY CHAMBERLAIN

British Foreign Secretary Asks Colleagues for Policy of Frankness Instead of Evasion.

WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT MOROCCO

Question Is Asked About British Position if France Has to Enter International Zone.

By JOHN L. BALDERSTON, London Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
Copyright, 1923.

LONDON, May 23.—Foreign Secretary Austen Chamberlain has prepared a new and comprehensive memorandum regarding foreign affairs and submitted it to members of the Cabinet.

This fact was published in Paris yesterday and caused surprise here. But the report turned out to be accurate, although a suggestion that the new memorandum meant a quarrel between Chamberlain and the Ministers was denied here.

Chamberlain's new effort is more in the nature of a plea for guidance from his colleagues than an attack or an attempt to reconquer the other Ministers to the present French views, still held. The memorandum is divided into three parts.

Protest Against Drifting.
The first deals with the history of the German offer for a security pact and analyzes the present situation. The second urges support for Chamberlain's view that the British should back the French desires for security up to the point where France is asked to give up against Germany not authorized by the peace treaty, and the third part, the most important, raises questions Chamberlain declares must be settled if the British are to have any foreign policy at all.

This memorandum kills the rumors that Chamberlain was prepared to resign in defense of his policies. He says in the new document in effect, that while he strongly urges reasons for his own pro-French policy, he is willing to abandon it and carry out any policy provided the Cabinet can only agree on one. The memorandum, however, contains nothing else, is a protest against the policy of drift.

Protests Lack of Clearness.
The Foreign Secretary refers to the Geneva protocol, which is again coming up at Geneva, and points out that in the declaration the Cabinet imposed on him and which he read at the last council meeting the British attitude on the principle of compulsory arbitration was not made clear.

Since the principle of compulsory arbitration is the very kernel of the league covenant, Chamberlain demands that the Cabinet should at least agree upon something which he can put forward as a Government policy. The document contains the suggestion that the Cabinet give sufficient effort to these questions to evolve a British foreign policy that shall last at least one year.

The only reference to non-European affairs contained in Chamberlain's memorandum is the suggestion that in the war between the French and the Riffians, some around Tangier must inevitably be violated by French troops. What he asks, is the British policy to be?

Address by Dr. D. J. Sulder.
Dr. D. J. Sulder will speak on Shakespeare's travels in Italy at the Cabanne Branch Library at 5 p. m. today. The lecture is open to the public.

Coming POST-DISPATCH Dollar Day IRRESISTIBLE VALUES IN THE POST-DISPATCH The Perfect Market-Place

NEW YORK BONDS NEW YORK CURRENCY

11

March and 98,800 in February.

EDITH GOULD'S Own Story of the LIFE of a RICH GIRL

The Autobiography of a Daughter of One of America's Millionaires.

By Edith Gould Wainwright
Daughter of George J. Gould and Granddaughter of Jay Gould.

CHAPTER XVIII.

WHEN Carroll Wainwright came to visit us at Georgian Court in September, 1915, he was 19½ years old. He was by far the best-looking boy I had ever met. More than six feet tall, with ash yellow hair, gray eyes and a pink-and-white complexion, hidden by tan in the summer, he was indeed very handsome, and still is.

The youngest of his family, with three older brothers, he was never permitted to grow conceited about his appearance and undoubtedly was not aware, at the time of which I write, that at least two girls in Eastampton and three in New York were "crazy" about him. Carroll's boyishness and lack of worldliness soon won my parents, mamma declaring that she wished more young men were as unsophisticated as he. We decided that because of our youth we would keep our engagement secret, knowing that our ages alone would cause our parents to withhold their consent to our marriage.

Vivien and her husband, Lord Decies, were visiting us for the first time in many years and mamma was much preoccupied with them. It was then that I noticed for the first time that papa's health seemed to be failing. He gave up strenuous sports like squash and court tennis and took a golf, a game that was later to prove fatal to mamma, who took up the game at the same time and became proficient at it.

On the termination of Carroll's visit I prepared to return to 758 Fifth avenue to begin my senior year at Miss Spence's school. Carroll and I managed to see each other frequently the following autumn and winter. He would come to the house for tea or we would go to a moving picture theater, accompanied by one of the governesses.

I learned that he had enlisted to fight for his country when he was only 17. Leaving his college preparatory school, he went to the Brooklyn Navy Yard and joined the navy. When his mother heard of this she was so worried about her youngest child (the three older brothers had already volunteered and gone abroad) that she went to the recruiting officer and informed him that Carroll was below the legal age limit. But Carroll, fired with patriotic zeal, at length persuaded her to let him go.

When he returned at the end of the war he determined upon making a career for himself instead of letting his parents send him to college. He studied painting assiduously six or seven hours a day because he believed it his duty to his mother, with whom he lived, to make himself financially independent. Fortunately his talents justified his efforts and he is now an artist whose work, according to the critics, is bettering each year.

The oftener we met the more convinced we became that each was necessary to the other's happiness. I still said nothing to our parents, fearing a disclosure of our love would raise obstacles to our seeing each other. Mamma was at our shooting lodge in North Carolina a good deal of the time, and in her absence called upon me to look after my younger sister, Gloria, as the following letter shows:

"My Darling Daughter: During the time that I am away will you be a mother to Baby? I always feel when I leave mamma, that it is a terrible thing to do, but I feel that I need a rest, because I am so terribly nervous. I have been so terribly disappointed and each day it cuts me more.

"Be sure to be around and see your father when he comes home, and write to me when you have time."

"YOUR DEVOTED MOTHER."

Here is a letter that came a week later:

"My Darling Daughter: Thank you many, many times for your nice letters. I really wonder what I should do without you. My sore throat has developed into a bad cough."

"I wrote your father a little letter this morning in French. If he can't read my 'wonderful' French, you try. When you go to your little parties I am going to make you look lovely as usual. There is no news naturally, but it is snowing, which is so horrid here."

"How nice it is that you see so much of your father. It makes my mind much easier, because I hate to leave you all. Well, dear, I will soon be home. My best and fondest love."

"YOUR DEVOTED MOTHER."

"P. S.—I wish I knew how Kingdon Jay and Little George were."

There is no doubt that the letters written to me by my mother, two of which were given in the preceding chapter, showed the greatest affection and solicitude for her family. Devotion such as hers is seldom found. The trouble with us children was that we took everything for granted. Only in later years, when I observed how other mothers treated their children did I really appreciate my mother's love.

Soon after she returned from North Carolina I fell ill with chicken pox, having caught it from my little nephew, Anthony Drexel III, who, with his parents and sisters, was spending the winter with us. I was exhausted to have such an infantile disease at the mature age of 18. Mamma, despite the presence of a trained nurse, took personal care of me. In fact, she always looked after the children when they were ill, giving up all her engagements to do so.

I was in an embarrassing quandary. I loved mamma so much that I dreaded telling her of my betrothal to Carroll. But I did not wish to give up Carroll and I realized that mamma, were she informed, would ask me to do so, for a little while, at least. I was in this unsettled state of mind when the mumps followed the chicken pox. To add to my discomfiture, Mamma confided to me her fears about Papa's health. This worry seemed to weigh on her constantly and I did not wish to add to it by telling her of my romance.

VIVIEN GOULD, LADY DECIES

GEORGE J. GOULD, JR.

LORD DECIES.

On my recovery a circumstance occurred that decided me on a course of action. A member of the family said to me: "Mamma has discovered that you are very fond of Carroll Wainwright. She is going to take you abroad for two or three years."

I had no reason for doubting the story. I wished heartily to be graduated from Miss Spence's school before marrying. The thought of going came to me and I persevered. As I tried to peer into the future I felt certain that my parents would forgive us for marrying, since they were fond of Carroll. It also struck me that I would save them tens of thousands of dollars by not having a coming-out party and an elaborate wedding. The only person I took into my confidence was my youngest sister, Gloria, and together with Carroll we planned the runaway marriage. We did not carry out this plan until after I had been graduated from Miss Spence's school. This happened on May 22, 1920. That night I placed my jewelry with a few clothes in a small hand bag. The first difficulty was to get out of the house, as I had never been permitted to go out without a governess. I was still puzzling over this the next morning when Providence came to my aid. Papa said he would take me to the school to get some books I had left there. I telephoned to Carroll to meet me a block below the school. Then I went out, tremblingly, with the hand bag. Naturally, Papa concluded the bag was to hold the books. He left me at Miss Spence's with word that Signorina Florida, the Italian governess, would call for me later.

A few minutes afterward I hurried from the building, met Carroll, then boarded a train bound for Philadelphia, where we planned to be married.

When we went to the marriage license office in Philadelphia, the clerk advised us that we were below the legal age in Pennsylvania. We were so upset that he sympathized with us and suggested that we go to Elkton, Md., where the marriage laws were more elastic. We rented an automobile and drove to Elkton, where we arrived at 1 o'clock. It was only the work of a few minutes to get a license and find a minister to marry us.

As we left the house we were met by a reporter, who cried in glee: "I got wind of this thing yesterday, so I followed you all day and watched you get married through the window." He called it a great "scoop" and hurried away. Carroll and I had no idea of the excitement that would follow. For days the newspapers featured our runaway marriage and made news of something that seemed perfectly normal to us.

(Copyright, 1925.)

(To be continued.)

WINNING OVER THE CHILD

By LUCY LOWELL

EVERY small boy or girl may be expected to go through at least one attack of "sugaritis," just as he—or she—is due for a siege of measles, chickenpox and mumps.

"Sugaritis" is the crave for candy, cookies and sweets, and the total lack of interest in cereals, lamb chops and the other things good for small folks.

"Worried Mother" tells me about it in a letter, asking how in the world she can win her little daughter back to normal appetite. Sugar things are given the baby in small measure, with the result that she merely picks at her food and virtually refuses to eat at all!

"The doctor pooh-poos the idea of our not being able to control the child," she writes. "And we have resorted to bribery, punishment, pleading and long explanations, all in vain. She is an imaginative little thing and says she just can't eat. But her health is suffering. Do you think a visit somewhere, or a stay at the seaside would benefit her?"

I do think a visit or a seashore vacation would give the baby something new to think about, and take her mind from the idea that she "just can't eat."

But I don't believe that it is necessary.

"Sugaritis," you see, isn't at all serious if mother is willing to use a lot of patience and a little tact in correcting it.

Since this baby is an imaginative little thing—as indeed they all are—why not put her imagination to work against the trouble?

I know another once "worried" mother who infused her little daughter with a perfect passion for rice merely by telling her a story. It was the story of the Rice Grain, and it began with the rice marshes of Japan and described every step of the grain's adventures from the time its parent seed was planted in the ground till it resulted in the cereal dish on the table, "waiting to be eaten as it might paint some pretty roses in a little girl's cheeks."

The mother even got pictures of Japan and the rice plant and whatever else there was connected with the subject that she thought would interest the youngster.

She repeated the process with corn and oatmeal. Even the lowly spinach came in for its share of attention.

As a result every meal is an adventure to the small daughter. As for candy, she has been known to refuse it "because it hasn't any story."

There's a romance behind every article of food, no matter how prosaic it may appear, as it lies upon the table. And children love romance.

So why not rout "sugaritis" with it?

Philosophical Phrasings

To feel the want of reason is next to having it.—La Bruyere.

Without constancy there is moral strength.—Swan.

Without constancy there is neither love, friendship nor virtue in the world.—Addison.

A man who is always forgetting his best intentions may be said to be a thoroughfare of good intentions.—Jameson.

It is hard to jest and not to jest, too: which oftentimes sinks deeper than was intended or expected.—Fuller.

Everyone complains of the badness of his memory, but nobody of his judgment.—La Rochefoucauld.

A He has no legs and cannot stand, but it has wings and can fly far and wide.—Waburns.

RAVIOLI.

SIFT three cupsful flour with one-half teaspoonful salt. Make a hollow in the center, break in three eggs and work very thoroughly into the flour to form a paste, kneading until the paste is absolutely smooth. Roll it out thin as possible and cut aside to dry for an hour. Meanwhile mince one cupful of chicken, ham or cooked chicken livers, add three table-spoonsful of soft bread crumbs, a few grains of pepper, a hint of salt and one teaspoonful minced parsley. Moisten with enough milk to hold together. Cut the dough into rounds with a large bliscuit cutter and put a small portion of filling into each. Brush the edges with milk or beaten egg and fold the pastry over the filling like turn-over. Deep into boiling well salted water or soup stock and when sufficiently cooked they will rise to the surface. Then turn, sprinkle with grated cheese and serve with tomato sauce.

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

MARRIAGE SCALES

Red Barbour

CHAPTER XIX.
GNAWING DOUBTS.

MARIANA sat in her room on the train speeding westward. Mile after mile whirled by like the pinpoints of a kaleidoscope, but to Mariana's patient fancy it seemed as if the train crawled at a snail's pace. She wanted to get out and go with her own hands.

The hours dragged. Mariana had no companion. She was alone with her own thoughts and the disquieting.

Like a squirrel, in a cage, her brain went round and round the eternal circle. Ways brought up sharply, jolt before the unanswerable question.

Was she too late? Charles take her back? Viewed now in the light of subsequent events, it occurred to Mariana that Charles had made a mistake when she informed that she was in love with Cullum and wished to have freedom.

In fact, he hadn't seemed upset by the news. She recalled that he had left the house after her startling announcement and had been gone all night. He hadn't slept and had heard her in the hall shortly after dawn. Next morning, he drew work as they had other. The allover embroidered her practical trim themselves. Printed voiles do likewise in any instance, and floral prints usually are handled in the making. These effects are being interestingly featured in voiles. A blue dress with scalloped edges have the scalloped bound in a tell her so himself, he had waited for her to make the move.

Mariana got out her handbag and wept all through the afternoon. She decided to go into the diner. Previously she had had all her meals brought to her room, but she felt now that she must have some diversion from her wretched thoughts.

The car was crowded and she was forced to share a table with another woman. Her dress, dressed in the latest style, rather flashy, in fact, and also friendly.

They discussed the evening alone, the uninteresting, very, finally destinations. "Reno, I suppose," she remarked with a humorous, her pencilled brow.

Mariana looked surprised. "Reno? What made you say that?"

"The other woman's dress," Mariana looked surprised. "Most beautiful, unusual, young women who travel are bound for the home of the land and the land of the mountains. You go, Mariana, asked hesitatingly.

"My dear, what a silly of my own compliment! I am a jealous woman and cannot stand him any longer."

"I—I am going to Reno, hand in Los Angeles," Mariana uttered.

The other woman looked with worldly eyes. "Hm! You don't look static about it!"

"I'm a little frightened, confidence. I—I thought for someone else and told her so. Now, I find that I'm a little frightened."

"Too bad," the other woman said. "A little frightened is not to confess the truth to your husband. Make him know you're back. Otherwise he'll have a hard time of it."

When she finally returned to her room, Mariana was pressed than ever.

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEI OLIVE OIL Sold Everywhere

Canberra Talcum Is Soothing For Baby's Skin

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

Fire Worshippers.

IN a strange, bright world, ocean-washed, dew-pearled, touched with splendors of ages long past, there the first men went and their wonder blent with their awe at the unknown vast. For the dawning's light and the starry night, and the whole of the mighty plan of the cosmic scheme was a misty dream to the groping primal man. But he left the clouds while he wrought fair gods of the mist and the sun and the rain, for the soul aspires in its wild desires to a cause for its rapture and pain. Till his worship came to a dancing flame, gleaming gold as the sun's own light, and with priest and fane he proclaimed the reign of the Fire God, red and bright. Now the world is old and men's hearts are cold, eyes grow blind to the Earth's delight, but the Fire God still makes their pulses thrill where the hearth fire dances to-night!

APPLE BROWN BETTY.

Break enough stale bread into small pieces to make two heaping cupsful. Cover the bread with a pint of rich milk and let it soften. Butter a pudding dish and put in a layer of the bread mixture. Dot generously with butter, sprinkle with a quarter cupful of sugar, dust with a little cinnamon, then cover with a layer of thick, smooth apple sauce. Then add another layer of the bread and so on until all is used. Bake half an hour and serve with a good hard sauce.

Lemons are arriving in Britain from Sicily at the rate of 20,000,000 per month, owing to the fact that America has banned the importation of Italian fruit.

MEDITATIONS OF A MARRIED WOMAN

By HELEN ROWLAND

"JUST A LITTLE LOVE."

A NEWLY married pair are like two small boys—they never feel really acquainted until after they've had their first battle.

No matter how "dead in love" a man may be, somehow the sight of a blonde can always temporarily reanimate him.

Apparently, all a man has to know about a woman in order to fall in love with her is that he ought NOT to.

It is every woman's fond hope that she may some day capture that happy medium between the ossified heart of a man who has never been in love at all and the burnt-out heart of a man who has always been in love—a little.

No matter how many of the seven deadly sins a man may possess, if he possess the one supreme virtue of lovaty, any woman who loves him enough can make an archangel out of him.

Men declare that they like a serious-minded girl—but the mere suggestion that a girl HAS a mind seems to fill them with cold fear; they complain that there is nothing inside a bobbed head—and then find that a girl with an IDEA puts too great a strain on their mentality; they want a girl who "can talk about something"—and then they try to stop her mouth with kisses!

One thing a man never can understand is why, the less a woman wears, the longer it takes her to put it on.

A husband's love is never quite dead until he stops saying, "How cute!" and begins saying, "How foolish!"

Love may be deep or light, real or imaginary, calm or stormy, but it MUST BE BEAUTIFUL—or it is not love!

(Copyright, 1925.)

What to Serve Tomorrow

Breakfast.

Strawberries.

Cereal.

Crisp bacon.

Scrambled eggs.

Current buds.

Coffee, cocoa, milk.

Dinner.

Veal roast.

Browned potatoes.

Creamed carrots.

Lettuce salad—Rougetfort.

cheese dressing.

Ice cream.

Cake.

Coffee, tea, milk.

Tea.

Cold meat sandwiches.

Relish.

Fruit gelatine pudding.

Oatmeal cookies.

Coffee, tea, milk.

Current Buns.

At night mix 1½ cake yeast, dissolved in a cupful water, three cupsful sweet milk and enough flour to make a soft sponge. In the morning add one cupful butter, one cupful sugar, and a little soda. Let it rise until very light, then add flour and one cupful currants. Knead and make into buns; put into tins, let rise again, then bake until brown. While hot, rub the tops with butter.

The whole of the embroidery for Liverpool Cathedral, which has just been consecrated, was done by about 20 women working in their leisure time in their own homes since 1902. Experts describe the embroidery as exquisite. The best frontal, containing 26 figures, was insured for $7500.

Try a Dance Step to Make Your Body More Beautiful

By LUCREZIA BORI, The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

I HAVE often spoken before of the value of dancing as a beauty aid. Today I am going to give you a new dancing step, one from the Japanese. It is different from the dancing steps of our Western civilization, and it will make an interesting beauty exercise for you to use.

I cannot impress on my readers too strongly the value of dancing in making the body symmetrical. It tones the muscles and makes them strong and beautiful. Dancing also enables you to hold your body well, and to handle it with grace and finesse.

The child who is awkward and handles itself in an ungainly, loose-jointed manner, somewhat like an overgrown puppy, will benefit greatly by taking dancing lessons in its early youth. This trains the young body to handle its muscles in the best way. They grow in health and strength and beauty accordingly, and the child becomes able to control its body so as to express the greatest amount of grace in its movements.

The same applies to the full-grown woman, however. Even though she did not have the benefit of dancing in early youth, she can improve her body and her bodily movements wonderfully by taking dancing steps for exercise. This is true of any age, so do not feel at all discouraged if you did not have dancing earlier in life to train your body to grow in the beauty way.

You can tone your muscles and bring beauty and strength to your body by the proper exercise, at any age at all. All you have to do is pick exercises which will affect the particular part of the body that you want to improve.

This dancing step that I am going to give you is excellent for the muscles of your legs, arms and abdomen. It also trains you to balance your body, and to carry it with poise and beauty of movement.

The exercise is simply this: Stand erect with your feet together.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH, FRIDAY, MAY 23, 1925.

OVER
WILD DOWELL

or girl may through all "sugar," due for a skenox and grave for can-and, and the to-cereals, lamb things good tells me about how in the little daughpetite. Sugar baby in small feet that she food and virall.

perhaps the idea to control the
"And we have punishment, planations, all magical little she just can't is suffering, somewhere, or would benefit or a seashore he baby some-and, take idea that she re that it is isn't at all willing to use a little tact

an imaginative ed they all imagination to suble?

nee "worried" ed her little passion for her a story.

of the Rile:
with the rice and described rain's adventurous parent ground till it dish on the be eaten as it pretty roses in a get pictures of plant and what-connected with thought would er.

process with Even the lowly its share of meal is an ad-daughter. As been known to it hasn't any behind every matter how er, as it has children love

"sugar," with cal

of reason is La Bruyere.

they there is an.

ship there is ship nor virtue son.

ways forgetting may be said to of good inten-and not to fear, he sinks deeper or expected.

line on the badbut nobody of Recherfoursaid.

MARRIAGE SCALES

CHAPTER 92.

GNAWING DOUBTS.

MARIANA sat in her state on the train speeding toward Miles after whirling by like the picture a kaleidoscope, but to her patient fancy it seemed that train crawled at a snail's pace, wanted to get out and put with her own hands.

The hours dragged maddeningly. She had no companion, her own thoughts and they disquieting.

Like a squirrel, in a revolving cage, her brain went round round the eternal circle. Ways brought up sharply to foil before the unanswerable question.

Was she too late? Charles take her back? Viewed now in the light of subsequent events, it occurred to Charles that he had made a mistake when she informed that she was in love with Cullum and wished to have freedom.

In fact, he hadn't seemed upset by the news. She recalled that he had left the house and had been gone all night.

hadn't slept and had heard him in the hall shortly after dawn, next morning, she remembered with painstaking distinctness had been quite as usual.

He had talked to her about forthcoming party and referred their conversation of the previous evening only to request her avoid gossip by continuing as usual.

Surely, she told herself, this indicated that he didn't care; had ceased to love her. He had to get rid of her, but he told her so himself, he had waited for her to make the move.

Mariana got out her handkerchief and wept all through Kansas. The lunchtime, she decided to go into the diner. Previously she had all her meals brought to her room, but she felt now that must have some diversion from wretched thoughts.

The car was crowded and was forced to share a table with another woman. Her dress was dressed in the latest mode, rather dashing, in fact. She also friendly.

They discussed the annals of eling alone, the uninteresting, finally destinations.

"Reno, I suppose," the other remarked with a humorous smile, her pencilled brows.

Mariana looked surprised. "Reno? What made you say that?"

"The other woman shrugged. "Most beautiful, unaccompanied young women who travel this way are bound for the home of the and the land of the incompatible."

"Are you going there?" Mariana asked hesitatingly.

"My dear, what a subtle compliment! I am a husband is a jealous brute! I stand him any longer."

"I—I am going to meet my hand in Los Angeles," Mariana unteered.

The other woman studied with worldly eyes. "Him? You don't look very static about it!"

"I'm a little frightened," Mariana confessed. "I—I thought I— for someone else and told myself, 'Two bad,' the other woman said, a little chuckling murmur of sympathy.

"I'd advise you, then, not to confess the truth to your husband. Make him have to win back. Otherwise he'll have to per hand. Nothing spoils a husband so much as being in the right, say, keep them always in wrong, whether they are or not."

When she finally returned to her room, after promising to with her new acquaintance, Mariana was more pressed than ever.

Guaranteed pure imported POMPEIAN OLIVE OIL

Canadian Pacific

Sold Everywhere

Talcum thing's Skin

Children's Bedtime Story

By Thornton W. Burgess

The Old Orchard Champion

A champion you seldom know
Until you see him face a foe.

—Peter Rabbit.

Peter was so interested in watching King Eagle that he never once thought of danger.

It was Scrapper the Kingbird who first saw King Eagle high up in the blue sky and at once gave warning. All the birds stopped their chatter and silence fell in the Old Orchard. Most of them got out of sight as much as possible. Only Scrapper the Kingbird remained out in the open. He kept his perch and watched the speck which he knew was King Eagle grow larger and larger.

Now, there was little for the feathered folk to fear from King Eagle. In the first place, he never had been known to visit the Old Orchard, and there was no reason to think that he would visit it now. Then, again, none of the feathered folk in the Old Orchard was big enough to tempt King Eagle to try to catch them. He wouldn't waste his time with such small folks as those living in the Old Orchard. So there was no real reason for this hiding and sudden silence. It was due to just a natural fear of one so big and strong and with such great claws and such a hooked bill.

You know that King Eagle has wonderful eyes. From so high up in the sky that he can hardly be seen from the ground he can look down and see everything, even so small a person as Danny Meadow Mouse. So it was that as he was passing high above the Old Orchard he looked down and saw something that interested him. It was Peter Rabbit. In order to see better Peter had come out from the shelter of the old Stone Wall and was sitting with his head tipped back, staring up at King Eagle. You see Peter had seldom had a chance for a good look at King Eagle and he was making the most of this one.

King Eagle also saw that none of those two-legged creatures called men were about. He knew that his two babies in their nest up on the Big Mountain would enjoy a Rabbit breakfast. So King Eagle began to swing in circles, and every time he came around he was a little lower. He was watching Peter Rabbit, and he was watching Farmer Brown's house, to see that no one appeared there.

Peter was so interested in watching King Eagle that he never once thought of danger. It didn't enter his head that King Eagle might come down there in the Old Orchard. So he was staid so that he felt as if he had almost jumped out of his skin when Scrapper the Kingbird suddenly screamed, "Run, Peter, Run!"

He had just sense enough to make a flying leap for the dear safe old Stone Wall, and as he did so he heard the whistle of air rushing between stiff feathers and he heard a scream of disappointment. King Eagle had shot down like a thunderbolt and had just missed Peter.

At the same time there was another scream. In fact, there was a succession of screams. From the safety of the old wall Peter peeped out. There was Scrapper the Kingbird actually attacking King Eagle and trying to drive him away, all the time screaming at him at the top of his voice. Somehow he managed to keep above King Eagle, darting down cles, and every time he came around he was a little lower. He was watching Peter Rabbit, and he was watching Farmer Brown's house, to see that no one appeared there.

How to Solve a Cross-Word Puzzle. Each number in the puzzle indicates the position of the first letter of a word.

Each word reads from left to right (horizontal) or downward (vertical), according to position. Lettered in correctly, words that cross will interlock.

Each number in the white squares also refers to a definition in the accompanying table.

Each definition suggests a word possessing the exact number of letters to fit the white space allotted to it.

Each white space is to receive one letter only. Words start only in numbered squares.

to strike him on the back or between the shoulders. He actually pulled one or two brown feathers out. Peter saw them floating down through the air.

King Eagle twisted and turned and did his best to get rid of Scrapper, but couldn't. All the time they kept rising higher and higher, until Scrapper was no more than a speck to his friends in the Old Orchard. At last they saw him leave King Eagle and start down for his favorite perch in the Old Orchard. King Eagle kept on his way and seemed glad to go, judging by the way he hurried.

All the feathered folk in the Old Orchard flew to meet Scrapper and tell him how wonderful they thought him, and Jenny Wren was one of the first. But the champion of the Old Orchard paid no attention to them. Straight to his favorite perch he flew and began to catch flies, just as if nothing at all had happened.

(Copyright, 1925.)

HOT STRAWBERRY TARTS

PREPARE flaky pie crust by the usual recipe and bake individual tart shells. To do this, fit the pie crust neatly over inverted muffin pans, pricking it about the edges and flange of the pan so it will not lose its shape when baked. When ready to serve fill with hot stewed strawberries well sweetened and slightly thickened with a little cornstarch—one-half tablespoonful moistened in two tablespoonfuls of cold water to one and one-half cupfuls berries and juice. Top with whipped and sweetened cream.

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE.

Each number in the puzzle indicates the position of the first letter of a word.

Each word reads from left to right (horizontal) or downward (vertical), according to position. Lettered in correctly, words that cross will interlock.

Each number in the white squares also refers to a definition in the accompanying table.

Each definition suggests a word possessing the exact number of letters to fit the white space allotted to it.

Each white space is to receive one letter only. Words start only in numbered squares.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Start Right.

The bottoms of the pots and pans will never become blackened and ugly if they are scoured all over each time they are used. Those blackened bottoms mean only one thing—systematic neglect.

When the Pin Is Lost.

So often the pin in the hinge of the lid of the coffee pot breaks and many cups are broken by the top falling off during pouring. Use a small safety pin in place of the pin and it is very likely to last as long as the pot.

Consider Those Next to You.

If your next-door neighbor is entertaining her bridge club, don't select that day to beat rugs, hang out all your draperies or houseclean the porch. You will find such small attentions will be appreciated by your neighbors.

Starchy Foods.

Now that summer is almost upon us, more care should be taken in balancing the foods at a meal. One starchy vegetable is all that is necessary on the warm weather menu and greens, fruits and fresh vegetables should be given right-of-way. Starches and meats play a much less prominent part in the properly planned summer menus.

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

SENATORIAL U ORIGIN A
SC CORD UP
POP NE UNI
ILLS AVID CLAD SETA
IAN MW AER
OR PEAL DI
U OUSTED E SENSATIONS

TODAY'S PUZZLE

HORIZONTAL
1 Clutch
6 Injure
11 Surface
12 Suggest
14 Exclamation
16 Engine
18 West Indies (abbr.)
19 Conjunction 21 Inclines
22 To keep out
23 Strike with the open hand
25 Be sorry for 26 Sheltered path
27 Funeral fires
29 Lenses
30 Home of wild animals
31 Necessity
32 Garment
35 Cost
36 Cures leather
37 Words given as signals
38 To knock senseless
42 Outfit
43 Gets the better of
45 Fix in place
46 Conjunction
47 To give
48 Pl. of compass (abbr.)
50 Place to sit
51 Sorrows
53 Carriers for food
54 To perspire

VERTICAL
2 Sun god
3 To equip
4 To shut securely
5 Horse with peculiar gait
6 Gleam
7 Fasteners
8 Unit
9 Pronoun
10 Hold closely
13 Weakens
15 Alone
17 Pull along
18 Desire
20 Fond name
22 Holdup men
24 A fruit (pl.)
26 Glances slyly
28 To rest
29 Slang for "reputation"
32 Sharpen a razor
33 Natural head-covering
34 Mix up
36 Words given as signals
37 To knock senseless
42 Outfit
43 Gets the better of
45 Fix in place
46 Conjunction
47 To give
48 Pl. of compass (abbr.)
50 Place to sit
51 Sorrows
53 Carriers for food
54 To perspire

The solution of the above puzzle will be published Monday

A DAFFODIL LUNCHEON

By HANNAH WING

Authority on Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

DURING the season when daffodils are in bloom, the hostess who does not serve one or more menus with this gold yellow color scheme is foolish indeed.

For a yellow menu nothing is better for the first course than a fruit cocktail in grapefruit or orange baskets. This may be followed by creamed sweetbreads or chicken, sweet potato apples—mashed sweet potatoes made in apple shapes—with an artificial leaf or a sprig of parsley in the end, and a ring-mold of spinach filled with egg sauce, and the yolks grated over the whole. Asparagus tip salad with mayonnaise and cheese crackers makes the next course, and for dessert plan a sponge cake from which the centre has been removed and the cavity filled with Neapolitan pudding, cut in slices, and marshmallows dipped in yellow fondant.

For a yellow icing it isn't necessary to use coloring. Just add the whipped egg yolks to a stiffly beaten boiled icing. This icing should be flavored with orange or lemon.

For yellow ice cream, use the yolks of the eggs for a custard foundation.

This is made of gelatin, and it separates into two layers. The bottom part, which is the top when unmixed, is clear, and the top sponge yellow. Make this in a ring-mold and fill the center with whipped cream tinted pale pink or lavender, sprinkled with candied rose-petals or violets.

A delicious yellow dessert is the old-fashioned Spanish cream.

One ounce (2 tablespoons) granulated gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, ¼ cup hot milk, 1-3 cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 2½ cups cold milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

It was an old theory that Acts of Parliament should consist of a single sentence. It required the authority of a special statute in 1850 to allow from that date forward Parliamentary draughtsmen to insert full stops in Acts of Parliament.

Rock Island Lines

Low Summer fares

Forget everything for a while in the Colorado Rockies

There's an enchanted mountain region so intense in its varied interests that those who enter it can think only of to-day. It's Colorado Springs and the Pikes Peak Region. Scenery—the most marvellous in all creation! And air—the sweetest, clearest, purest, fairly tingling with vitality! You step from the luxurious COLORADO FLYER, full of anticipation, though lacking just a little perhaps in the pep necessary for the complete enjoyment of all your surroundings. Then—in a day or two—a change comes over you. Everything is so radically different, so delightfully unique. It's a land that makes your shoulders snap back and your chest expand. You find yourself under the shadow of Pike's Peak, eager to explore the Cave of the Winds, Garden of the Gods, Cripple Creek, Cheyenne Canyon, Seven Falls, eager to take in the many sight-seeing trips, trails, motor highways—in a new environment. Rest in Colorado. Why not? We'll show you how you can spend a two weeks vacation there for as little as $120. All Rock Island trains stop at De Balcones Ave. (Forest Park) Station. Rock Island Travel Bureau will help you to make the most of your vacation tour.

FREE BOOKS
Illustrated booklets, maps, report list and full information on request.

City Ticket Office, 325 N. Broadway, Phone 7095, Main 3000 at De Balcones Ave., St. Louis, Mo. (Forest Park) Station
Paul A. Ames, Asst. Com. Pass. & Agt., Rock Island Lines
817 Commercial Bldg., Main 2000, St. Louis, Mo.

Direct line to either Denver or Colorado Springs

DENVER
COLORADO SPRINGS
KANSAS CITY
ST. LOUIS

Rock Island Lines

$5000 Accident Insurance Policy

Protection for Travelers and Pedestrians

For Only $1 Per Year

You DO NOT Have to Subscribe for Any Newspaper to Get This Policy

Heretofore, Travel Accident Insurance Policies, less liberal in terms, have been offered to readers of other St. Louis newspapers, but the policy holder had to subscribe for the newspaper offering the policy, and continue the subscription in order to keep the insurance in force.

This Post-Dispatch offer does not require that you subscribe for any newspaper, so the risk of losing your insurance following a stopped subscription is not present in this offer. Your dollar, accompanied by the application clipped from this advertisement, completes the transaction.

Mail or Bring This Application Today With $1.00 to the Post-Dispatch Insurance Bureau, St. Louis, Mo.

I certify that I am more than 10 years of age, and less than 70 years of age, that I am neither deaf nor blind and that I am not crippled to the extent that I cannot travel safely in public places, and I hereby apply for a $5000.00 Travel Accident Policy in the Federal Life Insurance Company, issued through The St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Full Name Print Name Plainly and in Full.

Address Street City State

Place of Birth

Occupation

Date of Birth

Write below name and address of person to whom you want insurance paid in case you are killed; otherwise it will be paid to your estate.

Beneficiary Relationship

Beneficiary's Address

NOTICE:—Not more than one policy will be issued to any one person, but members of a family, between 10 and 70 years, may each obtain a policy upon payment of $1.00 with each application.

